ANTI-NEGRO BIAS IN MANY FIELDS IN MISSOURI, U.S. REPORT ASSERTS

Civil Rights Unit Publishes Nation-Wide Survey—Ranks State Ahead of South in Integration.

By EDWARD F. WOODS
A Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9—A general pattern of discrimination exists in Missouri against Negroes in employment, public accommodations, housing, law enforcement, recreation and, to a degree, the schools, it is asserted in a federal report sent today to President Kennedy and Congress.

The appraisal of Missouri was contained in 687-page document prepared by the federal Civil Rights Commission. The publication represents a study of racial discrimination in all 50 states.

The report dealing with Missouri and the other states was one of three massive documents released by the commission and represented the most comprehensive survey of the status of civil rights rendered by the commission since its establishment by Congress in 1957. A second 380-page book deals solely with deprivation of voting rights in 100 counties in eight southern states. This report is backed up by another 848-page book on hearings conducted in Louisiana showing a pattern of barring Negroes from the polls, a pattern common to the other seven states.

Remedial Legislation.

To remedy discrimination against Negroes seeking to vote, a majority of the commission suggested remedial legislation to prohibit arbitrary and discriminatory denials of the right to vote. The commission also wants to prohibit states from denying the franchise except on the basis of reasonable age or residence requirements, imprisonment at the time of elections or conviction of a felony.

The commission's recommendations would, in effect, outlaw so-called literacy tests for voting, set a sixth-grade education as sufficient proof of literacy and make certain that whatever conditions are established are applicable to Negroes and whites alike.

The commission said voting discrimination persisted despite existing federal laws having been "vigorously and effectively invoked" by the Department of Justice.

The federal commission approved unanimously all recommendations for legislation except the one to limit state voting qualifications. Dissenting from this suggestion were Dr. Albert S. Rankin, political science professor at Duke University, Durham, N.C., and Robert Storey, former Dean of Southern Methodist University, and a Dallas (Tex.), attorney. They contended that "the Federal Government has sufficient authority to deal with denials of the right to vote without altering long-standing federal-state relationships in the federal constitution, declaring that the qualifications for electors shall be left to the several states.

Commission members approving all recommendations were Dr. John A. Hannah, president, Michigan State University, chairman; the Rev. Theodore Hes-

G. D. WOODS REPORTED PICKED AS NEW HEAD OF FOREIGN AID PLAN

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9 (AP).

PRESIDENT KENNEDY will soon name George D. Woods, board chairman of the First Boston Corp. of New York, to head the new Agency for International Development, the Washington Post said today.

Woods, 60 years old, heads the largest utility financing firm in the United States. First Boston has had much experience in private financing of development programs abroad.

The Post said Woods has been especially active in providing private capital investments for India.

Woods favors the United States foreign aid program, whether the aid comes from private or public sources, the newspaper said.

DRIVER FACES 52 COUNTS AFTER POLICE CHASE

He Is Said to Have Tried to Run Over Officer Before Being Caught.

Jerome L. Cannon, a mechanic, received 47 traffic summonses and was booked on five other charges following a police chase in north St. Louis last night in which two shots were fired into his automobile. No one was injured, although Cannon attempted to run over a policeman and sideswiped an automobile when driving on the wrong side of the street, police said.

The chase began shortly after 8 p.m. at Seventeenth and Mullanphy streets when Patrolmen William Conreux and Robert Truetken saw Cannon driving at high speed with one headlight bulb burned out, and attempted to halt him. As the chase continued in Hogan, Madison, Clinton and Sixteenth streets, Conreux and Truetken broadcast descriptions of the car and driver.

Other officers joined in the pursuit and attempted to set up a road block at North Florissant avenue and Madison. Cannon swerved across the concrete divider in North Florissant, narrowly missing a police car and sideswiping another automobile, and turned into Blair avenue, officers said.

At Hadley street two police cars were posted in a road block. Cannon was reported to have swerved toward Patrolman John Thompson, who was standing in the street. Thompson jumped aside, and fired three revolver shots at the speeding car. Patrolman James Matthews also fired a shot at the car. Two bullet holes were found in the car later.

Cannon abandoned his car at Thirteenth and Hebert streets and fled on foot. He was arrested a few minutes later in the 1300 block of Wright street. Police said he fought with officers and tore Patrolman Truetken's shirt before he was subdued.

Charges on which Cannon was booked, in addition to the traffic offenses, included resisting arrest, peace disturbance, driving without a driver's license, carrying a concealed weapon (a knife) and destruction of property. He is to appear in police c ourt Sept. 27.

Cannon, 24 years old, told officers he sought to avoid arrest because he did not have a driver's license. He lives in the 1100 block of Wright street.

GIRL'S QUARTER FOR LUNCH 'BUYS' ONLY SORE THROAT

GIBSONBURG, O., Sept. 9 (UPI)—Terri Taulker, 7 years old, had a sore throat today—from her lunch money.

Her mother put a quarter in the girl's handkerchief to buy lunch at school. When she decided to blow her nose, the quarter flew into her mouth, lodging in her larynx.

Instead of going to school, she went to the hospital, where doctors removed the quarter.

DE GAULLE RIDES THROUGH A WALL OF FIRE, ESCAPES ATTEMPT ON LIFE

Auto Speeds Through Burning Mixture on Country Road—Plastic Explosive Fails to Go Off.

PARIS, Sept. 9 (AP)—President De Gaulle escaped an attempt on his life last night as his limousine sped through a wall of flame on a country road, official sources said today. De Gaulle was not harmed.

Poice found an eight-pound charge of plastic explosive near where an inflammable mixture had been touched off along the road. But the plastic charge failed to go off.

Interior Minister Roger Frey declared the attempt was organized by a right-wing European group opposed to De Gaulle's policy in Algeria. Frey said one man was put under arrest and confessed, and that two generals were also being held.

Official sources said De Gaulle ordered the automobiles in his party halted after they had passed through the flames. He got out, hunched his shoulders, and said scoffingly:

"This was just a little joke in bad taste."

Then the 70-year-old President got back into his limousine and resumed his trip to Colombey-les-Deux-Eglises, his country home about 150 miles east of Paris.

Communique Issued.

Government sources said De Gaulle at first insisted that the incident not be made public because he considered it "of no importance at all." Later, he relented when his advisers told him word of it was certain to get out.

A palace communique said:

"An inflammable mixture along with an explosive charge last night was placed between Nogent and Romilly on the road that the Chief of State was taking to Colombey-les-Deux Eglises.

"This inflammable mixture took fire without provoking an explosion towards 2200 hours (10 p.m.) at the moment when the presidential cars passed. The speed of the cars was not slackened.

"Gen. De Gaulle arrived at Colombey-les-Deux-Eglises at the scheduled time."

One of the regular gendarmes patrols stationed at intervals along the Paris-Colombey route dashed to the area when the flames shot up.

Intended as Fuse.

Investigators said the inflammable mixture was apparently intended to serve as a fuse for the plastic charge but that something went amiss.

It was the first officially confirmed attempt against De Gaulle's life since he returned to power in June 1958.

There had been vague reports of another attempt in April during the generals' revolt in Algeria but these were never officially acknowledged.

For the past month security forces have been on the alert following rumors that right-wing opponents of the President's policies on independence for Algeria would attempt to assassinate him.

In August 1944, shortly after the liberation of Paris in World War II, shots were fired at De Gaulle when he entered the city. He was not injured. Pro-German French were blamed for the incident.

DOG-SQUIRREL CHASE LEADS TO MAN'S ELECTROCUTION

LANCASTER, Calif., Sept. 9 (UPI)—The dog chased a squirrel. The squirrel ran into a pipe. Vincent Adflleje hoisted the pipe to dislodge the squirrel the pipe touched a high-tension line.

That was the theory today in the death of Adflleje, 27 years old, whose body was found last night in a cultivated field near Lancaster.

A 30-toot section of aluminum irrigation pipe was found close to Adflleje's body with the squirrel's body inside. The remains of the family dog lay nearby.

'Little Deer' Tries to Put Indian Sign on His Mother

HOUSTON, Sept. 9 (AP)—A 14-year-old imitation Indian called Little Deer went back to the reservation today, handcuffed to the mother he insisted he has never seen before. The renegade, named John Manuel Tamayor, tripped himself up when he wrote a $10,000 ramson note to his mother, Mrs. Angelina M. Nieto, 32, of Killeen, Tex.

The note said her son had been kidnaped and she should send the money to a Houston address in monthly installments. The note was signed Little Deer.

"That's him all right," Mrs. Nieto said when she saw Little Deer in the Houston juvenile ward yesterday.

"I have never seen this lady before in my life," Little Deer said coolly. "But I would like to meet you, though, lady."

Little Deer was taken into custody Thursday night after Mrs. Nieto told Houston officers she had a ransom note—in her son's handwriting. He left his job in a cotton patch after he got a spanking, she said.

U.S. ORDERS 40,000 TROOPS TO JOIN FORCES IN EUROPE; RUSSIA REJECTS TEST BAN

KHRUSHCHEV URGES BIG-POWER STUDY TO STAVE OFF ATOMIC WAR

Accuses U.S. and Britain of Trying to Divorce Nuclear Experiments From Over-All Disarmament.

MOSCOW, Sept. 9 (AP)—Premier Khrushchev formally rejected today the Kennedy-Macmillan appeal for a ban on nuclear tests in the atmosphere and suggested a big power study of major world problems to stave off the threat of nuclear war.

"It goes without saying that the Soviet government cannot and will not agree to such a deal," Khrushchev said of the Western proposal for the embargo on further atmospheric tests.

In a broadcast statement concerning the move by President Kennedy and Prime Minister Macmillan, Khrushchev said they were trying to divorce the question of weapon testing from the over-all problem of disarmament.

They were trying to have the question considered "in isolation," he complained in identical notes delivered to the United States and British embassies.

Seeking Advantage.

Khrushchev went on:

"Every line of their statement revealed a desire to insure, cost what it may, for the Western powers and their allies in aggressive military blocs, unilateral military advantages to the detriment of the security interests of the Soviet Union and the other Socialist states."

Khrushchev called the Western offer dishonest.

(Though it was not unexpected, the British Foreign Office expressed deep regret at the rejection of the proposal for a permanent halt in testing of nuclear devices in the atmosphere.)

In a biting criticism, Khrushchev said:

"No matter what high-sounding words the leaders of the United States and British governments choose in their attempt to whitewash their line in the question of nuclear weapons, it is impossible to present an aggressive policy as a peaceful one, brutality as humanism.

Underground Tests.

"We are offered (a proposal) that the United States and Britain—let alone France, which in general is left outside this proposal—should retain an opportunity to go on improving their nuclear weapons, inasmuch as this proposal does not cover experimental nuclear weapon blasts underground and in outer space.

"The program of developing new types of nuclear weapons, which has been drawn up in the United States, precisely now requires the holding of underground tests."

The Soviet leader declared that for years the Americans have been trying at the three-power test-ban talks in Geneva to have such tests legalized.

"This has been one of the main obstacles to the conclusion of a treaty on the complete discontinuation of nuclear tests," he added.

Khrushchev said the Americans long ago prepared huge pits and underground galleries in Nevada for nuclear tests.

He said President Kennedy personally ordered the resumption of underground nuclear weapon tests "a day after the appeal to the Soviet Union."

(In fact, Mr. Kennedy's decision was announced two days after the American-British appeal went to Moscow last Sunday.)

Fails to Distinguish.

Khrushchev failed in his statement to distinguish between the atmospheric testing of nuclear weapons—which carries dangers of radioactive fall-out—and underground testing, where such hazards are far less serious.

His main observation on this point was to recall that the Western powers in 1959 had submitted a proposal in Geneva to limit the agreement on nuclear tests only to those held in the atmosphere.

This "would decieve the people," he insisted.

To discontinue only one type

LOUISIANA, TEXAS ARE THREATENED BY HURRICANE

Many Persons Evacuated Along Coast as Gulf Storm Approaches.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 9 (AP) A 135-mile-an-hour hurricane was stirring up the Gulf of Mexico today and a 800-mile strip of coastline from New Orleans to the Mexican border was buttressed and waiting for it to hit. This morning the storm was 400 miles southeast of Galveston, Tex., and moving toward the coast about nine miles an hour.

In Cameron, La., where more than 500 persons were killed by a hurricane in 1957, only about 25 of the 5000 residents remained. All stores and businesses were boarded up solid.

Elsewhere in the storm's path, evacuations had been completed or were proceeding in the low-lying coastal areas.

The hurricane was the third tropical storm of the season and under the alphabetical naming system was referred to as Carla.

The New Orleans Weather Bureau urged immediate evacuation of coastal areas. It said the storm should move inland on either the upper Texas coast or extreme western Louisiana coast sometime tomorrow.

Police Guard Roads.

Police guarded all roads into Cameron, a town perched atop a ridge about 30 miles south of Lake Charles, La., and only 40 miles east of the Texas state line.

The storm pushed tides two to three feet higher than normal toward the mainland and the Weather Bureau said that hurricane warnings would supplant the hurricane watch from the Mississippi river along the entire Texas coast sometime today.

There were no reports of distress in any of the southwest Louisiana parishes (counties), but evacuation centers were set up at Lake Charles high schools—one white and one Negro—to handle those seeking refuge.

Oil and gas operations in the Gulf tidelands off the coasts of both states came to a stop last night as the hurricane approached. Oil companies removed workers and equipment from the big rigs yesterday and few stayed on duty at the drilling stations.

In the city of Lake Charles, 30 miles away from the coastline, there was little to indicate a dangerous storm lay out in the gulf. Breezes were calm last night and there was no rain. A big crowd turned out for a high school game, played across the street from the gymnasium evacuation center.

Few, if any, state roads were closed in Louisiana because of flooding conditions. However, in New Orleans police closed Lake-

EARLY SHUTDOWN OF ENGINE CAUSES ATLAS TO FAIL

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla., Sept. 9 (AP)—Early shutdown of an engine caused an Atlas missile to plunge into the Atlantic last night shortly after it was launched on a test flight.

The malfunction prevented the Air Force from achieving three intercontinental range rocket successes in as many nights. Titan rockets launched on Wednesday and Thursday were successful.

Officials said data radioed from the Atlas "indicated that a premature shutdown of the sustainer engine occurred, causing the missile to impact shortly after normal cutoff and separation of the booster engine."

The missile probably traveled about 200 miles. It was intended to go 5000. The missile was an Atlas E model, an advanced version of the Atlas D rocket now deployed operationally at more than 30 launching sites in the western United States.

POLES PLAN CURB ON CHILDREN'S CHURCH TRAINING

© New York Times News Service

WARSAW, Sept. 9—The government said yesterday that it plans to control the religious instruction of Polish children. The move against what the Roman Catholic hierarchy considers to be the essence of religious freedom appears certain to provoke a new bitter round of conflict between church and state.

The church hierarchy already has ordered parish priests to disregard an executive order of the ministry of education, issued secretly Aug. 19, informed sources said. The official Communist organ, Trybuna Ludu, disclosed the provisions of the Aug. 19 executive order yesterday in an article attacking church leaders for "attempts to break law and abuse religious feelings for reactionary political purposes."

The order makes the content of religious instruction subject to government approval, limits instruction to two hours a week, makes catechism teachers employes of the state and places both classes and teachers under government supervision.

REDS HARASS WEST'S PLANES AT TEMPELHOF

Searchlights Trained on U.S., British Airliners Trying to Land—Protest Halts Practice.

BERLIN, Sept. 9 (AP)—East German Communist police have attempted to harass pilots of Western civilian planes coming in to land at Tempelhof Airport, West Berlin police reported today.

Red police, guarding the border southeast of Tempelhof, trained searchlights on the cockpits of two big Pan American planes approaching the runway last night, Western authorities said.

British European Airways, which, together with Pan American and Air France, maintain civilian air traffic between West Berlin and the West along the three allied air corridors, disclosed that the pilots of one of its planes were "irritated" by searchlights playing over its cockpit Thursday night.

East German police spotted the planes with their searchlights, set up originally to control the barbed-wire barricaded border by night, when the airliners were at an altitude of some 200 to 300 feet.

Practice Stopped.

West Berlin police said they immediately got in touch with East Berlin police across the border and as a result, the Reds stopped training their searchlights on the airliners.

Police indicated they considered the three incidents minor.

The Soviet Government says that civilian airlines have no right to fly in the corridors. The West has sharply rejected this.

Meanwhile members of the Communist youth organization are conducting a merciless hunt for East Germans who watch television programs beamed from the West.

Bands of blue-shirted "free German youth" roam towns looking for antennas tuned to

Magazine Proposes New Styles To Make Men Look Just Dandy

LONDON, Sept. 9 (AP)—Tailor and Cutter—the magazine that considers itself the world authority on men's styles—said today that male fashion is returning to the clothes of Beau Brummel.

This will mean that the well dressed man will wear:

Trousers so narrow they're more like tights.

Long jackets with wide shoulders and narrow waists. The coats will flare at the hips and have sleeve cuffs.

Square-toed shoes.

Double-breasted fancy cut vests.

Flat-topped hats that taper from crown to brim.

The magazine called the new male look "the regency line."

In broad terms, the regency period in England means from 1800 to 1840.

Beau Brummel was George Brummel, outstanding dandy of his day.

TRANSPORTATION OF DEPENDENTS OVERSEAS TO BE STOPPED OCT. 9

Most of Regular Army Units to Go to Germany in View of Berlin Threat—Designations Secret.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9 (AP)—Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara announced today that about 40,000 additional regular Army troops will be sent to Europe "in the immediate future."

Most of them will go to Germany to strengthen combat and supporting forces in view of Soviet Russia's threat to West Berlin.

The Pentagon announced also that transportation of dependents to Europe will be suspended, beginning Oct. 9. The suspension covers all means of travel and applies to travel to the following countries:

Belgium, Denmark, France, West Germany, Greece, Italy, Luxembourg, The Netherlands, Norway, Portugal, Spain, Turkey and the United Kingdom.

The suspension of travel applies to dependents of both combat troops and civilian employes of the Defense Department. It does not apply to West Berlin. The Pentagon said West Berlin is a "special case" but did not explain this.

Units Not Revealed.

The 40,000 men being sent abroad are all regular Army troops. Officials would not name the units or tell exactly where they are coming from.

They said this was a military secret.

An announcement said these reinforcements will bring the Seventh Army, stationed in Germany, and other United States units committed to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization to full combat strength. They will also provide additional combat, combat-support and logistical units for United States Army forces in Europe.

The 40,000 includes 3000 men previously announced. Gen. George H. Decker said yesterday that each of the three infantry divisions in the critical German area is being given 1000 additional men.

Present strength of United States forces in Germany includes five divisions, three infantry and two armored. There are about 250,000 troops in all in Germany.

Officials said the cut-off of travel for dependents is due to "logistic requirements" for the movement of the troops.

Both the troop movements and the ban on dependents' travel were announced by the Pentagon with the approval of President Kennedy.

Instructions Issued.

The Secretaries of the Army, Navy and Air Force were ordered to:

1. Stop completely on Oct. 9 Government-sponsored travel of dependents to Europe.

2. Discontinue immediately all "port calls" for the transportation of dependents to Europe. A port call is notice for a dependent to show up at a certain port for transportation.

3. Cancel authority for "concurrent travel" of dependents to Europe in all cases where the military man or civilian employee has not departed from his last station. This means that if the man is still on duty in the United States his dependents cannot go to Europe with him.

4. Explain the situation to holders of port calls or concurrent travel orders and encourage dependents to forego travel in those cases where the travel is scheduled prior to Oct. 9.

5. Advise all concerned about the right of dependents forbidden to go to Europe to be moved to some other location along with their household goods. For example, in the case of a soldier going to Europe, his wife and children might want to go to live with relatives.

Exceptions Possible.

Exceptions to the ban on travel may be made by high authorities where "the presence of dependents is in the national interest."

Secretary of State Dean Rusk declared last night, "We expect

SENATE VOTES BILL TO SET UP NEW AGENCY FOR DISARMAMENT

Measure, a Modified Version of President's Request, Would Place Body Under State Dept.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9 (UPI) —The Senate voted last night to create a modified version of President Kennedy's permanent disarmament agency.

The roll call vote was 73 to 14.

Final approval came after a day of debate. Opponents argued that it would be wrong to approve such a move when the nation is stepping up its military preparedness to meet world crises.

The bill survived two major tests before the final vote. It now goes to the House where leaders hope for a vote before Congress adjourns for the year.

By a vote of 54 to 33, the Senate rejected a motion by Republican Minority Leader Everett Dirksen of Illinois, to send the measure to the Senate Armed Services Committee with instructions to report by Feb. 1.

Goldwater Amendment Loses.

It defeated 46 to 43 an amendment by Senator Barry Goldwater (Rep.), Arizona, to strike from the bill authority for the semi-independent agency to conduct research and development programs.

Mr. Kennedy originally requested an independent agency, but the Senate bill places the agency under the State Department, with its director to serve as the President's chief disarmament adviser.

The measure also authorizes $10,000,000 for the new agency with no time limit on when it is to be spent.

The bill provides that the head of the new agency would be under secretary of state for disarmament. A deputy director and four assistant directors would be provided.

The bill directs the agency to "insure the acquisition of a fund of theoretical and practical knowledge concerning disarmament." It would co-ordinate disarmament activities by other agencies, and prepare recommendations for the President, Secretary of State and heads of other agencies.

The House Foreign Affairs Committee at a closed meeting, was expected to finish work on the bill Monday.

Acting Speaker John W. McCormack of Massachusetts said every effort would be made to pass the bill before Congress adjourns.

Mexican Labor Bill.

By the Associated Press.

The Senate began debate last night on a bill to extend for two years the program under which Mexicans are brought into the United States for seasonal farm work. Action on the measure was then deferred until Monday.

The bill submitted to the Senate by its Agriculture Committee, a revised version of a measure already passed by the House, provides that the Mexicans shall be paid not less than the prevailing wage in the area of employment for Americans similarly employed.

The House is scheduled to take up again Wednesday the compromise bill calling for a single generator nuclear electric power plant at Hanford, Wash.

The Senate had voted $95,000,000 for two generators but the House voted 235 to 164 to instruct its conferees on the legislation to oppose any funds for the purpose.

What the House will take up next week will be a compromise reached by the Senate-House conferees under which all of the electricity produced by the proposed 400,000 kilowatt generator would be used to run the Government's plutonium plant at Hanford and none would be sold commercially. Under the compromise, $58,000,000 would be allowed for the power project.

NEUTRALS DEFER ACTION FOR U.N. DEBATE ON TESTS

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Sept. 9 (AP) — Several nonaligned countries got the 46-nation Asian-African group to defer action yesterday on a Pakistani move seeking United Nations General Assembly debate on the new Soviet nuclear tests soon after convening Sept. 19.

Participants in a private meeting of the Asian-African nations said Afghanistan, Guinea, India, Indonesia and Mali asked the group to do nothing until Prime Minister Nehru of India, President Kwame Nkrumah of Ghana, President Sukarno of Indonesia and President Modibo Keita of Mali finish projected Moscow and Washington efforts to get Soviet Premier Khrushchev and President Kennedy into negotiations.

Those five countries were among 25 non-aligned nations that met in Belgrade last week. The Belgrade conference set up the Moscow and Washington missions.

PROMOTER LINKED TO HOFFA IS INDICTED ON TAX CHARGES

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9 (AP) Benjamin Dranow, linked by the Senate rackets committee to what it called "the peculiar financial manipulations" of Teamsters' president James R. Hoffa, was indicted yesterday on three counts of income tax evasion by a Federal grand jury in Minneapolis. Bond was set at $25,000.

The Department of Justice said Dranow is charged with failing to report $37,627 in taxable income for 1955-56-57 and willfully evading $9602 in taxes for those years.

Dranow is a 53-year-old former Minneapolis department store executive, described by the Federal Bureau of Investigation as a promoter and salesman. The Senate committee, in a report March 28, 1960, linked him to Hoffa in these words: "The perplexing skein of James R. Hoffa's peculiar financial manipulations, as traced by the committee's investigation over a three-year period, more frequently than not reflected the shadowy image of a man named Benjamin Dranow."

TWA NAVIGATORS DELAY STRIKE FOR FURTHER TALKS

NEW YORK, Sept. 9 (AP)—Navigators for Trans World Airlines have called off their threatened weekend strike for further discussion of a controversial semi-automatic navigational system.

A spokesman for the Airlines Navigators Council of the Transport Workers Union said in Washington that the Federal Aviation Agency had agreed to postpone further evaluation tests of the new radar navigation system and that negotiations would be carried out in the meantime.

Union and company representatives met at TWA headquarters in New York for three hours last night and adjourned with an announcemet that another meeting would be held Wednesday. The union spokesman said the navigators' contract with TWA has expired and that although a 30-day cooling off period will not expire until Sept. 16, the navigators could have struck over installations of the new navigation system "because the company violated the status quo."

2 SEIZED IN THEFT ATTEMPT

Two youths were arrested last night and identified as the pair who attempted to steal a purse a short time earlier from Miss Brenda Stevens, at Taylor and McPherson avenues.

Miss Stevens, who lives at 4515 McPherson avenue, was walking with her mother, Mrs. Thelma Stevens, when the youths jostled her and one tugged at the purse. She held the purse, and the pair fled. The youths, arrested on a description furnished by the women, denied they were the pair sought.

shore drive on Lake Pontchartrain, and two New Orleans roads on the edge of the city were covered by water.

Along the Mississippi coast, inner harbors were vacated and all craft moved to the safety of inland waters. The 20,000-man Keesler Air Force Base at Biloxi went on a hurricane alert and evacuated its aircraft.

The Navy's auxiliary air station at New Iberia, La., 100 miles east of Cameron, flew its aircraft to Shepherd Field, Tex.

Every possible route was used to evacuate Cameron, where many residents refused to heed warnings in 1957 and stayed in their homes to "ride out" the hurricane.

They moved out quickly yesterday, however—by trucks, automobiles and moving vans. The ship channel from Cameron to Lake Charles was clogged with boats of every variety—oil tankers, pleasure craft, speed boats. Not one craft remained in the Cameron harbor, normally busy with shrimp boats and fishing vessels this time of year.

Concern arose at Crowley, self-styled rice capital of the world, for a $5,000,000 rice crop only three weeks from harvest. Observers said winds of 40 miles an hour—much less hurricane force winds—would destroy the crop. Louisiana Agriculture Commissioner Dave Pearce said the storm could wreck the state's cane and corn crops, both near harvest, if it moved far eonugh inland.

SPACE A-POWER PLANT OPERATING AFTER 10 WEEKS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9 (AP)—The grapefruit-size nuclear plant providing electricity for the Transit 4A satellite is still operating successfully after 10 weeks in orbit, the Atomic Energy Commission said yesterday.

The device is providing power for two of the four navigational transmitters in the satellite. Solar cells provide electricity for the other two. The experiment is the first to use atomic electric power in space.

The AEC said the generator is being evaluated for possible use as a regular source of power in later Transit satellites, which will provide actual navigation data.

UNMANNED PLANE CIRCLES TOWN, CRASHES IN FIELD

BURLINGTON, Ia., Sept. 9 (AP) — Doren Bumgardner planned a short airplane flight around Burlington yesterday. He did not make it, but the plane did. The plane, a Civil Air Patrol L-16, jumped its mooring blocks at municipal airport after Bumgardner started the engine and took off without a pilot on an erratic two-hour flight that ended in an illinois bean field.

For an hour the plane circled lazily at 1200 feet over downtown buildings and outlying residential areas, then straightened out on a northeasterly course, climbed to 12,000 feet, ran out of gas and plunged onto the J. L. Garmer farm four miles west of Aledo, Ill. The plane was demolished.

Bumgardner, a rated pilot for six years, said that when the engine started he ran to the side of the plane, grabbed the control stick, but could not get inside.

The plane dragged Bumgardner around on the grass and then headed onto the concrete taxiway, where it turned around several more times. Bumgardner finally had to let go. He suffered a skinned right side from ankle to hip.

U.S. ENVOY VISITS STUDENT HELD IN SOVIET PRISON

Spends 1½ Hours in Cell With American Sentenced to 8 Years as Spy.

MOSCOW, Sept. 9 (AP) — A United States embassy official was allowed yesterday to visit William Makinen, 22-year-old American student serving eight years in a Soviet prison on charges of spying.

Joseph B. Norbury Jr., second secretary at the embassy, returned to Moscow today after spending 1½ hours with Makinen in his jail cell in Kiev but declined to give any details of his visit.

A spokesman said the details would be released by the State Department in Washington.

The Russians have rarely permitted embassy officials to visit Americans imprisoned in Russia, although such a right is provided for by treaty.

Jailed U-2 pilot Francis Gary was visited by his family and lawyers but no one from the embassy.

Makinen, of Ashburnham, Mass., was convicted by a Russian military court on Sept. 5 on charges of espionage in a tourist visit to Russia. The prosecution said he confessed.

When Makinen's conviction was announced the State Department protested and denied he was a United States spy.

Makinen, a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania, was granted a Fulbright scholarship to study in Germany.

He disappeared while on a tour of the Soviet Union. The Russians later disclosed he had been seized on July 27. The government newspaper Izvestia said Russian intelligence agents seized Makinen as he tried to photograph a military object.

4 CHICAGO CAB DRIVERS SUE TO BLOCK ABATA'S ELECTION

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CHICAGO, Sept. 9—Four taxicab drivers filed suit in United States District Court here yesterday to block the election of Dominic A. Abata and other officers as leaders of an independent union representing 5000 Chicago cab drivers.

The petition said a Sept. 1 meeting at which Abata was nominated for president was conducted illegally and not all drivers were notified of the meeting to nominate officers.

In a representational election last July 19, the independent union, the Democratic Union Organizing Committee, defeated Teamsters Local 777 as bargaining agent for drivers for this city's two major taxicab companies.

Brazilian Congress Approves New Premier and His Cabinet

Neves Is Given Vote of Confidence — Goulart Then Is Formally Proclaimed President.

BRASILIA, Sept. 9 (UPI) — Congressional approval of Premier Tancredo Neves and his cabinet cleared the way today for formal installation of Joao Goulart as figurehead President of Brazil's new government.

Neves, a conservative, won a 259-to-22 vote of confidence late last night. His cabinet was approved 246 to 10. Goulart, who was sworn in Thursday, was formally proclaimed President a few minutes later.

The Premier, the real boss of Brazil's new European-model government, appeared to have the good will of Congress. Most of the votes against him and his moderate coalition Cabinet were cast by supporters of Goulart who resented the new system's reduction of powers of the President.

Navy Minister Silvio Heck and Air Minister Grun Moss, two of the military leaders who resisted the inauguration of Goulart because they suspected him of Communist sympathies, resigned late yesterday. The resignation of War Minister Odilio Denys was not announced immediately, but his successor had already been chosen.

Put Pressure on Congress.

The military ministers, led by Denys, put pressure on Congress to adopt the European system of government as a means of limiting Goulart's authority.

Heck said in a farewell statement that his resignation did not mean he was giving up his anti-Communist campaign, merely that he would "transfer my fight to another field."

No immediate change was expected in the policies of domestic austerity and neutralism instituted by former President Janio Quadros, who precipitated the recent Brazilian crisis by his resignation two weeks ago.

Neves will serve as Justice Minister as well as Premier in the new Cabinet.

Other Cabinet Members.

The other new ministers are: Foreign Affairs, Santiago Dantas, Laborite; Labor, Andrei Franco Montoro, Christian Democrat; Finance, Walter Moreira Salles, independent, former ambassador to Washington; Agriculture, Armando Monteiro, Socialist; Air, Brig. Clovis Travosos; Navy, Adm. Angelo Nolasco; War, Gen. Joao Segadas Viana.

Trade and Industry, Ulysses Guimaraes, Socialist; Health, Estacio Sottomaior, Laborite; Education, Oliveira Brito, Socialist; Mines and Power, Gabriel Passos, U.D.N., and Transport and Public Works, Virgilio Tavora, U.D.N.

Afonso Arinos, who was Quadros's Foreign Minister, will become Brazil's chief delegate to the United Nations, a job to which Dantas had been assigned by Quadros.

FIVE SISTERS ARE KILLED WHEN FIRE SWEEPS HOME

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 9 (AP)—Five sisters trapped in an upstairs bedroom of their home were killed by fire early today. The 2½-story house was left in charred ruins. The parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter W. Randall, and two other children escaped. Three more children were not at home.

The victims were Frances, 18 years old; Patricia, 10; Carol, 8; Edna, 7; and Kathleen, 5.

Authorities said the fire apparently started in the basement, where a quantity of junk, in which Randall had been dealing, was stored. The junk hampered efforts to reach the source of the flames.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N.Y., Sept. 9 (AP)—Henry Morgenthau Jr., Secretary of the Treasury under President Franklin D. Roosevelt, was reported in good condition at Vassar hospital early today after a heart attack last night.

Morgenthau, 70 years old, lives on a 700-acre farm near Wiccopee in southern Dutchess county. He held the top fiscal post for 11 years, longer than any other man except Albert Gallatin, who held it for more than 12 years in the early 1800s.

CUBAN FIRING SQUADS EXECUTE 5 INVADERS

Men Put to Death for Crimes Committed in Batista Dictatorship.

KEY WEST, Fla., Sept. 9 (AP) —Five members of the anti-Castro invasion force that landed in Cuba on April 17 were executed last night for crimes committed in the Bastista dictatorship, Havana radio reported today.

The five fell before Fidel Castro's firing squads at 11 p.m., the broadcast said.

They were among 14 of the invaders who were tried before a military tribunal in Santa Clara yesterday. Their names were listed as Ramon Calvino Inzun, Antonio Valetin Padron Cardenas, Emilio Soler Puig, Jorge Ping Yung and Roberto Perez Cruzota.

Calvino, who had been a corporal in the investigations department of the Havana police in the dictatorship of Fulgencio Batista, had been accused of committing many murders and of torturing prisoners and other crimes.

The trial of the 14 lasted about eight hours. The trial was the first involving any of the 1200 men captured by Castro forces.

Nine others also on trial on murder charges were sentenced to 30 years in prison.

Reports from Santa Clara said none of those on trial was on the list submitted for exchange to the now disbanded American Tractors for Freedom Committee.

UAW RETURNING TO G.M. PLANTS HERE AS LOCAL TALKS RESUME

Union Officer Predicts Full Production on Monday Unless a National Strike Is Called.

Maintenance men and some other non-production employes were working at General Motors Corp. plants in St. Louis today as the company resumed bargaining with the United Auto Workers on local issues.

A local walkout, which began Wednesday, ended at 4 p.m. yesterday when Walter E. Schilling, president of UAW's Local 25, received word from national union headquarters that management had agreed to some union demands.

Schilling said terms of the preliminary agreement included willingness of the local management to bargain, allowing alternate union committeemen to handle grievances as they arise and barring of reprisals or penalties against the strikers.

The resumption of negotiations followed last night at the Chevrolet plant. About 6600 workers had walked out at the Chevrolet plant, Fisher Body Co. and the Chevrolet warehouse.

Schilling said full production will be resumed Monday unless a national strike is called. The national headquarters of the UAW has set a deadline for 10 a.m. Monday. A general strike will be called at that time unless agreement has been reached on national issues, or the deadline has been extended.

A spokesman for General Motors said workers called back today were preparing for the resumption of production. Normally there is no production on Saturdays.

UNITED FUND LEADER URGES GREATER GIVING

Another United Fund campaign victory this year depends on more employed persons contributing on the Fair Share basis in the coming drive, Ethan A. H. Shepley Jr., general chairman of the campaign, said yesterday.

Shepley addressed more than 500 corporation heads and campaign volunteers at a meeting at the Chase Hotel. Goal of the drive is $9,050,000, an increase of $450,000 over last year, for support of 116 health, welfare and character-building agencies.

In 39 federated campaigns in St. Louis, 12 have achieved their full goals, with two of these taking place in the last two years, Shepley said. Volunteer leaders in the campaign have suggested that a Fair Share gift is a pledge of one hour's pay each month for a year for employes earning up to $6000 annually. The scale is graduated upward for those earning more.

PEABODY WORKERS' UNIT CHOOSES PMW OVER UMW

Employes of Peabody Coal Co.'s Midwest Mine at Belleville chose the Progressive Mine Workers over the United Mine Workers in a bargaining rights election held yesterday by the National Labor Relations Board. The vote was 50 to 20.

Peabody had favored the UMW. When it purchased the Midwest Mine four years ago the men were represented by PMW, but the company said that because it had a contract with UMW covering all its mines, they would have to change to that union.

The PMW filed unfair labor practice charges, and the NLRB set the election date after the case had been appealed through courts by Peabody and the UMW. The NLRB ruled also that the company should pay wages for a 13-day stoppage in 1957, which ended with the miners joining UMW.

Myers was indicted for one of the killings and will go on trial Sept. 18. The girl is being held in jail in Big Spring pending disposition of her case.

U.S. Was Not Vigorous Enough In Berlin Action, Douglas Says

The United States suffered a defeat when it failed to act vigorously after the sealing off of East Berlin by the Soviet Union, Senator Paul H. Douglas (Dem.), Illinois, said here yesterday.

Perhaps, he said, America should have sent tanks through the barbed-wire barricade immediately after it was erected between the East and West zones of Berlin and "torn it to pieces." However, he noted, "this would have been a risky business."

Senator Douglas was one of four members of Congress who received Congressional Distinguished Service Awards from the American Political Science Association yesterday at the organization's fifty-seventh annual meeting at the Sheraton-Jefferson Hotel.

Others were Senator George D. Aiken (Rep.), Vermont; Representative Richard Bolling (Dem.), Missouri and Representative Gerald R. Ford Jr. (Rep.), Michigan.

In a joint press conference following the award presentations, Douglas said United States planners had prepared for Soviet efforts to obstruct Western access routes into West Berlin but were unprepared for the sealing off of East Berlin.

Ford said the Russians are gambling that they can "nibble away" the rights of the West in Berlin. "Somewhere along the line, this nibbling process could force us to make a major decision," he said.

The four also agreed that President Kennedy had no other choice but to order the resumption of nuclear tests after Russia's decision to end the testing moratorium.

Ford observed that while he agreed with the President's decision, he thought Mr. Kennedy could have registered a propaganda victory for the nation by keeping his decision quiet while ordering test preparations.

In a paper presented to the association yesterday, a former Republican official said Richard M. Nixon made most of the decisions in his 1960 presidential campaign while party experts "were sitting around on their hands for lack of authority to act."

Cornelius P. Cotter, a former staff member of the G.O.P. National Committee and former assistant director of the United States Civil Rights Commission, asserted that "individuals who were ready, willing, able and competent to work in the national campaign" were relegated to the role of "court attendants" while members of the Kennedy organization "were moving."

Cotter emphasized that his comments should not be construed as criticism of the former Vice President because Nixon's decisions "in the course of his quest for the presidency came within a hair's breadth of winning it for him."

same panel meeting on behalf of George M. Belknap, director of voter analysis for the Democratic National Committee in the 1960 campaign, said the Democrats—against expert advice—failed to make "full use of their best propaganda weapon—the economic class appeal" used by Roosevelt and Truman.

Belknap suggested disagreement with Mr. Kennedy's "New Frontier" slogan and campaign theme, "Get America Moving Again," with regard to their political effectiveness.

The "New Froniter could mean only forests and mountains" to the average citizen "and there is no evidence the phrase ever had any other meaning," he stated. In adopting his campaign theme, Mr. Kennedy ran the risk of "bringing up ugly facts without being in a position to assure alleviation," Belknap said.

A program of the Civil Liberties Educational Foundation urging teaching of law to undergraduate liberal arts students was indorsed at a meeting of college educators yesterday.

Frank R. Strong, dean of the Ohio State University School of Law, observed that the "law-oriented society of America" requires that all undergraduate students understand the fundamental processes and institutions of law.

Thomas H. Eliot, dean of Washington University College of Liberal Arts, suggested that classes in law and the Constitution should be intensified in high schools. He cautioned against presenting "polemical indoctrination courses," however, which would prevent students from reaching objective decisions in their study of law.

UNEMPLOYMENT BENEFIT CLAIMS DECLINE IN WEEK

Claims for unemployment benefits declined this week as industry continued to recall workers to jobs, the St. Louis-St. Louis county office of the Missouri Division of Employment Security announced yesterday.

Continued claims reached a low for 1961, with only 12,849 on file, compared with 15,860 last week and 13,353 in the comparable week of 1960. Initial claims totaled 2374, 159 below last week and 1612 less than the comparable weeek of last year.

Only 330 claims were filed under the new federal compensation extension law. Continued claims totaled 3108 under this program.

SHOOTS SELF, SAYS HE DIDN'T KNOW PISTOL WAS LOADED

Spencer Meinberg, 4928 Berthold avenue, shot himself in the leit leg with a revolver today. Meinberg, 19 years old, said he thought the weapon was not loaded and pulled the trigger.

He made his way from his home to the entrance of the Arrow Finance Co., 1151 South Kingshighway, where he told employes what had happened. They summoned police. He was taken to City Hospital.

WRONG-WAY TWAIN DRIVER GETS 60 DAYS FOR SPEEDING

Elmer J. Ifland, 6333 Evergreen boulevard, Berkeley, was fined $100 yesterday and sentenced to 60 days in the Workhouse for speeding 65 miles an hour on the Mark Twain Expressway last Aug. 27. He pleaded guilty of the state misdemeanor in the Court of Criminal Correction of Judge Louis Comerford.

Ifland, who was in the wrong lane at the time, was pursued for three and one-half miles between Emerson avenue and Angelrodt street before Patrolman Robert Beimslager was able to bring him to a halt. The speed limit is 55 miles an hour in the area.

The case was filed in the Court of Criminal Correction because there is no city ordinance governing speeds on the new expressway.

W. D. WILLIAMS TAKES OATH AS ASSISTANT U.S. ATTORNEY

Walter Dakin Williams, former instructor in the St. Louis University Law School, was sworn in yesterday as an assistant United States attorney for the Eastern District of Illinois. He is a brother of Tennessee Williams, the playwright.

He is 41 years old and a major in the Air Force Reserve. In World War II he served with the Air Force in India and Burma. Recalled to active service in 1951, he served in Formosa, and more recently was stationed at Scott Air Force Base, where he was in the judge advocate's division.

Williams, who lives in Belleville, is a native of St. Louis and a graduate of the Washington University Law School. He is co-author of "Nails of Protest," a work on comparative religions.

ABSENT LAWYER IN DIVORCE MILL CASE SENTENCED

Buffalo Attorney Gets Six Months in Jail and Is Fined $1000 for Contempt.

Vernon R. Wells of Buffalo, N. Y., a lawyer, was found guilty of criminal contempt of court yesterday by Circuit Judge Douglas L. C. Jones in Clayton. Wells, who failed to appear for the scheduled hearing, was sentenced to serve six months in St. Louis county jail and was fined $1000.

Judge Jones found Wells guilty of workin; in collusion with Carl J. Pursey, former St. Louis attorney, to obtain divorces in St. Louis county for residents of Buffalo by submitting false information in court cases, coaching witnesses to lie in court testimony and representing both the plaintiffs and defendants in the divorce suits.

Wells, a former St. Louisan who moved to Buffalo in 1938, was ordered to surrender his license to practice law in Missouri. Judge Jones also ordered the lawyer stricken from the rolls of attorneys authorized to practice law in the St. Louis county Circuit Court.

Refused to Return.

Wells has refused to return here to respond to the contempt charge, contending that the court lacks jurisdiction in the case. Judge Jones previously overruled Well's motion seeking dismissal of the charge. He had ordered Wells to appear yesterday to show cause why he should not be cited for contempt.

The judge waited for some time for Wells to appear before passing sentence.

Wells, 58 years old, is free on $1500 bond on five charges of subornation of perjury in connection with the divorce cases. Two indictments were returned against him in St. Louis and three in St. Louis county. Extradition proceedings have been started to bring him here to face trial.

The indictments accuse Wells of inducing witnesses in divorce cases to say they lived in Missouri when, in fact, they resided in New York.

Pursey on Probation.

Pursey has pleaded guilty of contempt of court in city and county Circuit Courts for his part in the divorce cases. He was put on probation for one year and fined $500. He gave up his license to practice law in Missouri.

Pursey and Wells were classmates at the old St. Louis City College of Law in the 1920s. Pursey has said that Wells approached him in 1959 about filing divorce suits here for Buffalo residents and, on occasion, brought clients here from Buffalo by automobile. At least 30 such suits were filed here.

Reuther Rules Out Extension Of Strike Deadline for G.M.

Local Shop Committees and Plant Managers Must Settle Differences by Monday Morning, He Says.

DETROIT, Sept. 9 (AP)—Walter P. Reuther says the United Auto Workers' labor contract negotiations with General Motors Corp. can drag on indefinitely unless shop committees and plant managers reach agreement on working conditions.

The union president said last night there was not a chance of the union extending its 10 a.m. Monday strike deadline against 129 G. M. plants in the United States.

"The Sept. 11 date holds," he told reporters when bargaining talks were recessed until today. He said local unions have adequate time over the weekend to complete their negotiations. If they do not, he said, "this thing can go on forever."

Local unions unable to resolve their problems, he said, are authorized to strike Monday.

The UAW and G.M. already have agreed on a national economic package which the union says will give G.M.'s 350,000 hourly workers an increase of more than 12 cents an hour each year in take-home pay.

Both Reuther and G.M.'s chief negotiator, vice president Louis G. Seaton, said the national economic agreement, which gives UAW members many long-sought benefits, is contingent on negotiating settlements on non-economic problems. These include work standards, grievance procedure, compulsory overtime, use of supervisors on hourly paid jobs, and how much time should be allowed for relief, wash-up and coffee breaks.

Reuther said the union made it clear Wednesday when the strike deadline was extended five days that there would not be another extension. He said every local union has been instructed to work hard over the weekend on resolving plant problems. He said management must do the same. "I think we can make progress and get these things in shape," he said.

Seaton acknowledged "there's quite a problem at the local level." He said nearly 15,000 local demands are pending, with 4000 others either settled or withdrawn. "We'll be working over the weekend," he said.

In Washington, Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg was optimistic. He said the negotiations are in fine shape with G.M. set to sign Monday and Ford and Chrysler to follow suit shortly afterward.

The UAW has extended contracts with Ford and Chrysler until Wednesday. Negotiations with Ford were recessed yesterday until 10 a.m. Monday and with Chrysler until 9:30 a.m. today. Both companies are awaiting the outcome of the G.M. negotiations before making new offers to the union.

An outbreak of wildcat strikes at several G.M. plants in the last three days has contributed to tension in the UAW-G.M. negotiations but this was eased somewhat today because most of G.M.'s plants operate on a five-day basis and they were closed for the weekend.

Two more wildcat strikes arose yesterday out of local disputes, one at Janesville, Wis., and the other at Flint, Mich.

An unauthorized walkout earlier in a key plant at Pittsburgh, Pa., could, G.M. said, disrupt production coast to coast. The plant stamps out metal parts for all five passenger car divisions. G.M. attorneys yesterday sought a court order to limit picketing at the Fisher body plant in a Pittsburgh suburb. Judge Clarence B. Nixon of Allegheny county court refused G.M.'s request for an immediate restraining order and set a hearing for Monday.

Police seized $57 and a dice table.

MOTION TO DROP JUDGE POELKER CHARGE STUDIED

Jurist Contends He Was Forced to Testify Against Himself in Tax Case.

A motion to dismiss an indictment charging Circuit Judge Virgil A. Poelker of St. Louis county with failing to file a state income tax return for 1959 was taken under advisement yesterday by Circuit Judge Franklin Ferriss after a hearing.

Judge Ferriss did not set a date for ruling on the motion, but said he would act on it as promptly as possible.

Judge Poelker had taxable income of $20,500 in 1959, but did not file a state income tax return that year, the indictment alleged. Judge Poelker's salary was $15,000 in 1959, his first year on the bench.

Dismissal of the indictment was sought by Judge Poelker on the ground that he had been compelled to testify against himself.

He appeared as a witness before the grand jury and signed a waiver af immunity, but later contended that he had not been informed at the time that he was a prospective defendant.

Hyman G. Stein, one of the attorneys for Judge Poelker, contended yesterday that the grand jurors who indicted Judge Poelker were not asked whether they had prejudice against him "as a result of news accounts and hearsay."

The grand jurors were not cautioned against being influenced by "news accounts and hearsay that were prevalent" at the time of the grand jury inquiry into Judge Poelker's affairs, Stein said.

Stein contended that the waiver of immunity Judge Poelker signed before he testified before the grand jury was not valid because Judge Poelker was not informed he was the subject of investigation for possible prosecution in the matter about which he was questioned.

Judge Poelker was never told that he was subject to possible prosecution, Stein said.

News accounts or other publicity about Judge Poelker's affairs do not make the indictment invalid, Prosecuting Attorney Norman H. Anderson said. He contended that Judge Poelker was not compelled to testify against himself.

Judge Poelker asked to be subpenaed when he was invited to appear before the grand jury and voluntarily signed a waiver of immunity, Anderson contended.

Letters from the People

Values of Conservatism

The American people certainly should examine the policy of conservatism and probe it thoroughly, for they would surely discover its numerous excellent qualities.

It is not a weak system which tends to foster a "puny" national government, but a forthright plan for victory not only over oppressive external forces but more importantly over the grim corruption of our excellent Constitution in the form of Federal subsidy of every type of business (which leads directly to socialism and thence to Communism).

Conservatism points to the fact that the United States was founded by freedom-loving men, and grimaces when presented with the federal dominance present today.

The conservative knows that taxes could be lowered if the financial needs of education were met on the state and local level instead of shipping the money to Washington, D.C., and then receiving it in the guise of aid minus a Federal bureaucracy bill for processing.

The conservative knows that the only correct and constitutional place to settle the racial problem is on the state and local level, for only eventual understanding, not mere Federal legislation, can solve this problem.

Finally, the conservative realizes that he must also overpower the many false and twisted accusations concerning his philosophy and goal made by lavish and sometimes socialistic liberals and factually inform the American people of the true and far-reaching values of Conservatism.

Machiavelli's Method

Your editorial which assumes a world-wide "revulsion" against the Soviet Union's nuclear tests seems to ignore a universal trait of human nature, first articulated by Machiavelli; namely, if one must do something bad, do it quickly, and people will forget it just as quickly. Further, history would seem to support this assumption, that is, the Hungarian revolt, whose memory seems to have been lost.

Self-Determination?

The policy of our Federal Government is that the people in all countries should have the right of self-determination. Does the President speak for the people of Missouri when he asks for self-determination? We certainly do not have it under those Missouri laws which permit a municipality to annex adjacent territory without regard for the wishes of the people in the area to be annexed.

The people to be annexed are not completely without rights in Missouri. This appears to distinguish the Show-Mes from the Soviets. Our statutes say the municipality must get the approval of a court, and that those to be annexed may contest this approval. However, is the decision of the court based on self-determination? No, our laws say it must use the same theory the U.S.S.R. uses. Russia's theory is that it knows what is best for its captive people, and those people will have what is "best" whether they like it or not.

Wheat in the City

We suggest that the City of St. Louis convert the unused portions of the Mill Creek property into a gigantic wheat field next session and, by permitting it to lie fallow in future years, reap the needed monetary windfall of the federal soil bank. E pluribus Benson.

Is Polygamy the Answer?

In your editorials and in letters from your readers we have heard much about the so-called "problem" of illegitimate children, and I would like to suggest a question: Is monogamy breaking down? And is polygamy the solution?

Having more than one spouse is recognized in other countries, in fact we gave 32 jewel-studded Cadillacs to a certain potentate with six wives and 32 children, as "economic aid."

I repeat the question: Is monogamy breaking down, and is polygamy the solution to the ever growing burden of illegitimate children?

Magnets for St. Louis

The willingness of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration to consider St. Louis as a possible site for its manned space flight center draws attention to a community asset which sometimes seems too lightly regarded by those concerned with the industrial and economic expansion of the metropolitan area.

Properly enough, they stress water, rail, plane and truck transportation, the availability of sites, access to raw materials and the like. But some grumble, mistakenly, that St. Louis might foster a "climate of growth" by offering tax concessions and similar inducements to attract new plants.

It is a question whether companies interested in such artificial advantages really help a community. A responsible business is willing to shoulder its share of the cost of public services. An industrial "tramp" looking for public subventions may be as quick to move out as to move in.

What interested NASA in St. Louis—and we hope its space center will be established here—makes for permanence. This is the presence of first class educational institutions, notably Washington and St. Louis universities. Electronics and kindred innovations are creating a wide range of new industries. Scientific research is of the utmost importance to them. And the scientists in the new industrial research centers want to be close to the broader research of the campus. Not only do they look to it for help, but they prefer to live in an environment of scientific investigation. They like neighbors with whom they can "talk shop."

Evidences of this are the hundreds of new factories of this sort which have been built in the Boston area close to Harvard, Massachusetts Institute of Technology and many other colleges. A comparable concentration is to be found in California, thanks chiefly to the University of California and Cal Tech. The well paid white collar workers of the new industries also take keen pleasure in orchestras, museums and, in general the fine arts and the lively arts. They like pleasant surroundings, John Fischer of Harper's Magazine points out that they were very slow to move to Sterling Woods, a community near West Point specially promoted for their kind. "The trouble, it seems, was that the scientists were afraid of being lonesome," he writes. "Who could they talk to out there in those woods? Chipmunks? Gardeners? Their wives?" Such people generally are addicted to asphalt—at least the asphalt which reduces the distance between city and suburbs.

In St. Louis, Washington University is making intellectual as well as physical strides. It is not without significance that it has been added to the list of schools receiving special support from Procter & Gamble. The others are Chicago, Columbia, Cornell, Harvard, M.I.T., Northwestern, Pennsylvania, Princeton, Stanford, Yale, Cal Tech and New York University. That is good company. Also significant is the imminent expansion of the St. Louis University campus east of Grand. Its new buildings will be devoted almost exclusively to science and technology. Their location will be enhanced by the opportunities for attractive city living which are being developed in the same area. And the Mill Creek industrial park should be an ideal location for some of the clean, landscaped, smokeless factories of the new industries.

Here, then, is something about which St. Louis should be blowing its horn. Further, those who appreciate education as a contribution to the community's economy should also appreciate the desirability of strengthening this magnet—if only for profit's sake.

Quebec and Missouri

Since mid-July, when the Province of Quebec suddenly began enforcing a 28-year-old anti-billboard law, thousands of advertising signs have been taken down along provincial highways. Quebec's law bars such signs within 1000 feet of its highways, and its government considers the signs to be traffic hazards frequently in bad taste.

Missouri still has time to enact billboard legislation far less severe and more restricted in application than Quebec's, and to gain a federal bonus for doing it. The present session of Congress extended the deadline for federal-state billboard agreements to July 1, 1963. With such federal encouragement, fourteen states have agreed to control billboards along the new interstate highways now under construction. These states are: Connecticut, Delaware, Hawaii, Kentucky, Maine, Maryland, Nebraska, New York, North Dakota, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Washington, West Virginia and Wisconsin.

All these states are making money out of protecting traffic and roadside scenery from billboard forests, which is something they ought to do in any case. Missouri legislators ought to be encouraged, the next time they meet, by more than 14 examples.

While De Gaulle Waits

There may be a trace of truth in the apothegm which holds that problems are not solved, but only displaced by other problems, but it is not enough to provide a base for policy. Gen. De Gaulle, however, seems to believe that if he waits long enough matters will straighten themselves out in North Africa. He remains stiffly reluctant to discuss Bizerte with the Tunisians, and equally unwilling to suggest sufficient flexibility to facilitate further talks with the Algerians.

In contrast, President Bourguiba, back in Tunis after the Belgrade neutralist assembly, speaks optimistically of a settlement of the Bizerte impasse. Ben Khedda, the new Algerian premier, reiterated the rebels' readiness to negotiate, but only if France places "a positive construction on the necessary decolonialization". Yet the fact that he has replaced the more moderate Ferhat Abbas suggests greater Algerian rigidity as a consequence of the French rigidity which brought two previous attempts at negotiation to a stop almost as soon as they were started.

After almost seven years of fighting, the Algerians are bound to be less hopeful than President Bourguiba, and resigned to a continuation of terrorism. The rebel government is under less pressure than President Bourguiba. His people are appalled by the loss of lives over Bizerte and the consequent dislocations. The Tunisians do not regard themselves as at war with France. They have not hardened themselves as have the Algerians. Bourguiba does not want to hurry the French out of Bizerte in this time of crisis, but he does want an understanding. He still tries to see the bright side of everything De Gaulle says. He should not be disillusioned. Both he and Ben Khedda strengthened their neutralist support at Belgrade. Without negotiations, the old problems will not fade away; they will be intensified.

Flaw in the Nursing Home Law

Missouri's 1957 nursing home law for the protecting of elderly persons is proving defective under court test, according to Attorney General Thomas F. Eagleton. He says substandard nursing homes with fire and health hazards are able to escape state regulation by posing as boarding homes, which are excluded from the state law.

A fundamental deficiency in the law, the Attorney General reports, is its definition of a nursing home as one which "provides maintenance, personal care, or nursing for three or more individuals . . . who are unable to care for themselves beyond the basic requirements of food, shelter and laundry." It is this definition which differentiates nursing from boarding homes.

The Attorney General's office recently lost a case in Jackson County Circuit Court because, Mr. Eagleton says, the statute was interpreted to mean it must be shown by eyewitness testimony that three individuals in the home received nursing care. The court ruled out testimony of doctors and nurses, and circumstantial evidence, to this effect. The loophole will provide the opportunity for potentially dangerous nursing homes to continue operating without any kind of regulation under the guise of boarding homes. We agree with the Attorney General that the law should be amended at the Legislature's first opportunity, to make clearer the distinction between unregulated boarding homes for the elderly and regulated nursing homes, and to facilitate enforcement.

The 1957 act, Missouri's first meaningful legislation on the subject, was enacted in the wave of public concern which swept the state after the holocaust at a Warrenton nursing home in which 72 elderly persons were burned to death. As Mr. Eagleton says, the statute was hastily drawn, and so it is not surprising that it has proved less than perfect.

It should not be too difficult for the legislators to phrase a definition of nursing homes which will prevent the unscrupulous from escaping regulation and enable the State to enforce the law without the undue burden of establishing the nature of the institution by eye-witness testimony. Until that is done, Missourians cannot rest easy that the tragedy at Warrenton will not some day, or any day, be repeated.

India's Need for Water

Details of India's program to assure safe drinking water in the country's 558,000 villages constitutes a rather pathetic reminder of how far India has to go to become a modern industrial state. Americans take pure drinking water for granted, as an elementary health measure. Most Indian villages obtain water from communal wells, which often become polluted from seeping sewage and unclean water containers. Many villages depend on filthy, stagnant ponds.

Installation of sanitary tube wells in the villages would work wonders with the health of Indian farm families, which is the reason why India's third five-year plan provides $140,000,000 for the purpose. Some $70,000,000 already has been spent. Bad water is only part of India's health problem, but Prime Minister Nehru's government understands how important pure water is. Any assistance the United States can offer in helping solve problems of this nature is money well spent.

To Build the Inner Belt

The County Council ought to lose no time in surrendering the Inner Belt Highway project to the State Highway Department, as recommended by County Engineer Leslie. What was submitted to the voters in 1955 as a $16,000,000 road item has turned out in fact to require something closer to $40,000,000. The county does not have that kind of money at hand. And even if it did, there is a question whether it is capable of administering so sizable a project.

The state agency is set up to tackle big jobs like this one and it enjoys far superior resources of capital and engineering skills. What is more, it is willing to take over the project subject only to minor modifications of the county's plans for a traffic interchange with the Daniel Boone Expressway. In addition it is willing to assume the not inconsiderable cost—$5000 a mile—of maintenance and operation once the 17-mile loop highway is completed.

Handing over the Inner Belt to the state also would permit the county to concentrate on a smaller but equally pressing project. We refer to the need for a decision by the Council on what to do about the city's Forest Park-Rock Island Expressway, scheduled for completion about a year from now. It will terminate in a giant traffic jam at Millbrook-Skinker unless action is taken soon in the county to run it through University City-Clayton to a link-up with the Inner Belt near County Hospital. The Council should accept responsibility for seeing that this easily anticipated need is met.

The Perfect Reducer

The possibility, though it may be remote, that appetite can be controlled by doing things to the lateral hypothalmus is too significant to be overlooked. The lateral hypothalmus is the small primitive area of the brain known to be concerned with the regulation of hunger and thirst. Now Dr. Sebastian P. Grossman, at present working at the University of Iowa, has been able to stimulate this brain area of rats, curbing their appetites.

If some way could be found to bathe the lateral hypothalmus of overweight humans with chemicals that would cause them to shun food, what an admirable substitute for willpower that would be! And yet it would not be entirely satisfactory. One of the difficulties with food and will-power is that most fat people are fat because they love to eat. If manipulating the brain should cause them to shun food, one of the pleasures of life would be removed.

What fat people would really like to have is a philtre that would allow them to eat and grow thin. In other words, something to regulate the body's reaction to victuals so as to maintain ideal weight no matter how much excess food (including whipped cream) was consumed. Wealth beyond the dreams of avarice would be the reward for the inventor of such a potion.

The Ozark Rivers Flow On

National Monument Needed Not to Prevent All Change But to Control It

Dan Saults in the Missouri Conservationist

Dan Saults is Assistant Director of the Missouri Conservation Commission.

I think it was Democritus. Anyway, some sage said 2500 years ago: "No man can step twice in the same river."

He wasn't concerned with a stream French wanderers called Courant and we now call Current, but it will do for a text. The Greeks did have a name for it; all things animate or inanimate are constantly changing. Resist as we will in our human passion to freeze Eternal Flux, existence flows on as the present becomes a historic past or, more likely, the ruins of a forgotten city.

The Mirror of Public Opinion

What I'm trying to comment upon is the feelings of a lot of us about the proposed Ozarks Rivers National Monument. For the few who don't know about this, there's a bill before Congress to create as a "monument," under the National Park Service, stretches of the Current, its Jack's Fork tributary, and the Eleven Point river, which parallels the Current.

Some of us Missourians have argued long and loudly on this matter. There was a faction opposed to any action, a faction that felt the United States

—Ray in The Kansas City Star.
The Ozark Rivers Should Belong to the Nation

Forest Service can best "manage" land along these rivers, a faction arguing for the Park Service, and a group that wanted the state to go it alone. But what most of us want, in every faction, is somehow to capture these rivers and make them unchanging, molded to the shape of our memory. We are likely to phrase it as "preserving wilderness values" or "protecting the smallmouth bass" but deep in our subconscious we hope there's some magic to slow the rush of time. But we can't preserve the Current river of our youth. That was not the stream our fathers knew, nor was our ancestor's river the flow a long-dead Frenchman saw. No Osage hunting party ever camped at Montauk Park, nor did Schoolcraft cross on Highway 19 bridges. The Current will change, more slowly perhaps, if man disappears from the face of the earth.

Our real problem for the Ozarks Rivers National Monument is to do what is right as we can see that right; to take those actions which best express thoughtful, civilized mankind. We cannot control growth and decay, the pulse of birth and death, but we can influence the acts of men, at least to an extent.

We can plan for the good of this generation and possibly future generations; we can try to preserve our human concept of beauty in a landscape, where acts of man threaten that landscape.

No man can step twice in the same river, nor view twice the same landscape; as Thomas Wolfe said, you can't go home again. But you can certainly pick up your trash.

We can't "preserve" the rivers, but we can live with them better than we have been. And the Conservation Commission, after real soul searching, has decided that the National Park Service plan will let all of us live best with the Current, Jack's Fork and Eleven Point rivers that are changing as you read this.

Political Poker on Berlin

From the Manchester Guardian

On Berlin itself no major concessions are possible. The West cannot agree to West Berlin's becoming a demilitarized free city since that would remove the only real guarantee of the freedom of the West Berliners.

On the recognition of East Germany, however, the West can afford to make some concessions—provided that comparable concessions are made in return. The only real obstacle to the recognition of East Germany, apart from the admittedly distasteful character of the East German regime, is that it would to some extent legitimize the division of Germany. That is, of course, a genuine obstacle; and the professional anti-Germans who spend so much time examining the motes in Dr. Adenauer's eyes that they ignore the beams in Herr Ulbricht's do nothing to ease the situation.

Nevertheless, the fact remains that the division of Germany exists; and that it can only be ended by some form of disengagement. If the West really wants to unite Germany then it should propose disengagement. If it is not prepared for disengagement then it must abandon its hopes for German reunification.

Short of disengagement the most hopeful solution is that the West should recognize East Germany in exchange for guaranteed access to West Berlin, supervised by a six-power control commission. It is along these lines that the Western powers should be thinking; and after their elections are over even the West Germans may realize that this solution is in their interests as well. For, after all, whoever might win a war fought in Germany the German people would lose it.

Between Book Ends

CONTEMPORARY EUROPE: A HISTORY, by H. Stuart Hughes. (Prentice-Hall, 524 pgs., $10.)

A desire to understand the historical processes behind the events heralded in the headlines about the most recent European crisis may motivate an occasional reader to take to a book like Hughes's account of the last 50 years of European history. The ordinary reader may find it too extensive for his liking. The avid reader of historical accounts about Europe in the twentieth century, however, will hail it as one of the best that he has read.

Rich enough in detail to give substance to interpretations and judgments, broad enough in scope to present movements and trends, not only events, it provides a delineation of ideological conflicts in the context of political, social and cultural factors. The complexities of the period are not over-simplified, but are made meaningful. The period of 1945 to 1960 is treated with insight as an age that has its own characteristics, which call for understanding.

The author, professor of history at Harvard University, skillfully tells of the cold war, the loss of the colonial empires, and Europe as its own master. The reduction of national differences in Western Europe is one of his last themes. Hughes's account is a welcome guide for an understanding of what has happened in Europe in the first 60 years of the twentieth century.

Carl S. Meyer

A CALABASH OF DIAMONDS, by Margaret Lane. (Duell, Sloan and Pearce, 212 pgs., $3.50.)

The joker in this story of a treasure hunt in Portuguese East Africa is that they never find the diamonds. But they think—these optimistic three—the Earl and Countess of Huntington and their nephew, that they had a good time trying. And the reader has a pretty good time too, keeping up with their dangerous treks through almost impassably rough country, feeling the disapproval of native chieftains; their secret and exhausting digging at the spot where they believe the treasure is.

Galloping along to the very last few pages, he (the reader) begins to wonder when they are going to come upon the pot of diamonds, buried beneath the tangled roots of a big tree. Surely, they must. But they don't. The story is told with zest, though it lacks the refreshing breaks of conversation.

A BRAND FOR THE BURNING, by Don Lawson. (Abelard-Schuman, 254 pgs., $3.95.)

If you can imagine a synthesis of Sherwood Anderson and John Dos Passos, that's what you'll find in this first novel about small-town Americans in those momentous years between 1920 and 1945.

Lawson comes by his Illinois version of "Winesburg, Ohio," quite simply—he admired Anderson and corresponded with him for years, taking him as a model. How much he realizes he owes to Dos Passos is something else—but the concluding novel of "U.S.A." certainly evidenced similar characters in the grip of similar events.

However, Lawson writes more compactly, without getting inside his people. There's a good deal of surface chronology, stress on a few major scenes, but one comes away with the feeling that little depth has been reached. The main actors are Bill Erikson, a big bluffer with a shifty streak, and his nephew, Mark, who is torn between hero worship and realistic appraisal.

This is basically a synopsis for a writer to develop; flesh and blood could make the skeleton come alive.

FCC WOULD KEEP CHANNEL 2 HERE

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9—Retention of Television Channel 2 in St. Louis and transfer of Channel 36 to Springfield, Ill., were proposed by the Federal Communications Commission yesterday.

Notice of the proposal was the latest move in a four-year-old controversy over the channel assignments and stemmed from an order by the United States Circuit Court of Appeals here last July 27 sending the case back to the FCC for a "fresh start."

Yesterday's proposal would duplicate the action FCC took March 1, 1957, when it shifted very high frequency Channel 2 to St. Louis and allocated ultra high frequency Channel 36 to Springfield. Stanley Harris, attorney for Sangamon Valley Television Corp. of Springfield, said the company would fight the new FCC proposal. An FCC spokesman said the proceeding would not touch on the question of who should be licensed to operate on Channel 2.

U.S. MAY DETECT THIRD RED BLAST FALLOUT TODAY

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9 (AP)—Radioactive fallout from Russia's third nuclear test may be detected today by United States observers.

Officials have said there was no immedate health danger from the fallout.

Owing to a weather freak, the radioactive cloud from the third nuclear test was passing across to the North American continent ahead of fallout from the second blast.

Dr. Lester Machta, a United States Weather Bureau scientist, said that because the weather at the time of Monday's second shot, the radioactive cloud was largely caught in a high pressure cell above northern Siberia.

The third test, touched off Tuesday, presumably was caught by strong winds and went underneath the high pressure area toward the east.

Machta said the cloud from the third shot was moving at about 60 miles an hour and was due over this continent last night or today.

He played with the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra for 28 years and with the Municipal Opera orchestra for 15 years before his retirement two years ago. He had been in the real estate business for about 10 years, operating his own firm, Title Realty Co. In 1956, Mr. Etzkow received a citation from the Sales Executives Association.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Esther Teitelbaum Etzkow; his mother, Mrs. Jennie Etzkow, and a sister, Mrs. Robert Feldman.

CHARGES G.O.P. PLAYS POLITICS ON BERLIN

Republicans were accused of injecting partisan politics into the current discussion of foreign affairs in a speech last night by John M. Bailey, Democratic National Chairman, to the convention of the American Political Science Association.

Bailey spoke in the Gold Room of the Sheraton-Jefferson Hotel. The convention is to end today.

"It is unortunate," the speaker said "that what some observant columnists have aptly titled the 'sorry politics' of partisanship have been injected into the debate on foreign affairs.

"In place of responsible and accurate criticism and constructive suggestion, we are treated to the shabby and sordid spectacle of partisan politics on Berlin, on Cuba, on Laos and, unbelievably, even on Communism—where epithet and innuendo and the ballyhoo of misinformation serve ony to confuse and confound our friends and give aid and comfort to the enemy.

"I am well aware of the need for politicians to seize upon issues and place them before the eyes of the public. Sometimes, unfortunately, the lure of making political hay has resulted in the temptation to harvest any crop.

"But the public good is hardly served by a Republican national chairman who hints broadly of appeasement and who uses a barrage of political broadsides, however inaccurate, to shake our national confidence in these troubled times. Somehow, I do not think that the people of this country expect that foreign policy decisions should be made in the national headquarters of political parties, but that our assignments are on other levels of activity."

Bailey gave no bill of particulars. His opposite number, Republican National Chairman William E. Miller, spoke to the convention Thursday night, affirming the party's suport of President Kennedy in the Berlin crisis "as long as he maintains his firm stand against Soviet Russia."

In another part of his speech Bailey turned on Miller as follows:

"My Republican counterpart has been insisting for some time that the national choice is between guns and butter, as if the decision were between defense and pointless luxury.

"It develops that the luxuries which Mr. Miller is talking about are aid to education, decent housing, help to distressed areas, and medical care of the aged.

"It is obvious that these are programs which we cannot afford to sacrifice, and that our strength is that we can provide guns and not senseless luxuries but the essentials for a healthy society.

The convention cited two United States Senators and two Representatives yesterday for distinguished service in Congress this year. They are Senators Paul H. Douglas (Dem.), Illinois, and George D. Aiken (Rep.), Vermont, and Representatives Richard Bolling (Dem.), Missouri, and Gerald R. Ford Jr. (Rep.), Michigan.

In a press conference, Bailey said a report that five Democratic Senators would speak here in 1962 to help re-elect Senator Edward V. Long does not mean that Democrats are worried about losing his seat in Missouri but simply that the party will not take anything for granted.

Bailey said the Kennedy Administration had inherited some "military flabbiness as a result of the penny-pinching tactics of a Republican administration which put dollars ahead of defense."

MRS. JAMES A. WATSON FUNERAL TO BE MONDAY

Funeral services for Mrs. Cora Watson, widow of James A. Watson, founder of the S. J. Watson undertaking establishment, will be Monday at 8 p.m. at the Holiness Church of Christ, 4201 Page boulevard. Burial will be in Washington Park Cemetery Tuesday at 10 a.m.

Mrs. Watson, 92 years old, died of infirmities Thursday at St. Mary's Infirmary. Her husband, who died in 1933, founded the undertaking establishment at 2769 Chouteau avenue in 1919. She was a native of Webster county, Ky., and a resident of St. Louis since 1922. She lived at 3039 Rolla place.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Clemma Miles, with whom she lived, and a brother, Montie Rice, 4019 Cook avenue.

News of the Churches in the St. Louis Area

JEWISH NEW YEAR BEGINS TOMORROW

By JOHN T. STEWART
Church Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Rosh Hashana, the Jewish New Year, begins tomorrow at sundown. The holy day opens a 10-day period of prayer and meditation that is the most sacred period of the Jewish religious year. The holy days end with Yom Kippur, Day of Atonement, Sept. 20.

Rosh Hashana is observed by Orthodox and Conservative Jews for two days, and by most Reform Jews for one day. All branches of Judaism observe Yom Kippur for one day; it will begin at sundown Sept. 19.

The new year is 5722, according to Jewish tradition. Rosh Hashana services in synagogues throughout the world will open with blowing of the Shofar, ram's horn.

The meaning of this ancient ceremony is explained by the Commission on Information of the Union of American Hebrew Congregations: "The Shofar will sound the call to conscience for Jews to reflect upon their past deeds and to prepare themselves religiously for the days ahead. The worshiper is called upon to re-evaluate his own life and reinterpret God's commandments in more positive ways during the coming year."

In St. Louis, all Jewish congregations will hold Rosh Hashana services tomorrow evening and Monday, and Orthodox and Conservative Jews will observe the second day with services Tuesday morning.

Heroes and Goats in Turnabout as Reds Beat Cardinals, 3-2

Broglio Hard-Luck Loser in 10 Innings

By Neal Russo
Of the Post-Dispatch Staff

CINCINNATI, Sept. 9—Baseball, verily, is a game in which players giveth one game and taketh away another. As the Cardinals' Julian Javier and Cincinnati's Eddie Kasko and Jim Brosnan proved in the two clubs' last two meetings, one night's hero is the next night's bum. And vice-versa.

Because of those turnabout showings, Ernie Broglio's best performance this season was wasted in the Cardinals' 3-2 loss to the Reds, who increased their lead to two games over the beaten Dodgers.

"You can't give somebody five outs in one inning and expect to get away with it," Manager Johnny Keane said angrily in the clubhouse following last night's giveaway.

Culprit No. 1 was Javier, whose leaping grab of a line drive with the bases loaded had saved the Cardinals' 11-5 victory over Concinnati Wednesday.

Big Blow by Robinson.

By dropping a throw from Ken Boyer for what appeared to be a sure double play, Javier last night prolonged an eighth inning in which Frank Robinson finally got a chance to bat. He doubled two unearned runs home with a drive to the top of the 55-foot-high scoreboard in left-center.

Gus Bell had opened the inning by drawing a pinch walk. After Javier messed up the play on Kasko's grounder, both runners advanced on Vada Pinson's infield out. Then came Robinson, who hit a 2-2 pitch to lift his RBI total to 117.

Although Broglio, who was charged with the loss, had his best fast ball of the season and a good curve and changeup, he threw Robinson a slider, low and away.

James's Fumble Hurts.

Culprit No. 2 was Charley James, who had shared the hero role with Broglio after seven innings by sandwiching a long double between a walk and Boyer's first of three singles for two runs in the fourth inning.

After Bell began the tenth with a single, Keane brought in Lindy McDaniel. Pinch-runner Elio Chacon moved up on Don Blasingame's sacrifice and Kasko, who had made two costly errors in Wednesday's game, singled sharply to left.

Because James was playing shallow, Coach Reggie Otero held up the runner at third, but only until James bobbled the ball as he charged hard. Then Chacon raced home and the one-run decision records became 30-14 for the Reds and 15-28 for the Redbirds.

"Kasko always has been tough for me—he's a good clutch hitter," McDaniel said. Kasko has hit safely four of the last five times he has faced Lindy.

Brosnan Now 9-3.

Brosnan, who was battered for five runs in one inning Wednesday, picked up his ninth victory against three losses with two scoreless innings last night. Both leadoff men singled off Brosnan. One time it was Carl Sawatski, who has pinch-hit safely four of his last five chances.

Starter Jim O'Toole also pitched well. He was in trouble in only two innings other than the fourth. In both cases the first batter singled, but bunt attempts were flubbed by Curt Flood and Javier, the Wednesday hero who became a Friday goat.

Redbird Notes.

The Cardinals' Curt Simmons is scheduled to face the Reds' Ken Johnson today.

Cincinnati has clinched the season series with its 12-8 margin over the Birds. . . . Said Brosnan, "Sawatski is the most improved hitter in the league." . . . The Cardinals' record in extra-inning games is 3-7. . . . Boyer is hitting .326, Sawatski .322 and Flood .320.

The One That Got Away

Cardinal second baseman JULIAN JAVIER drops throw from third baseman Ken Boyer in the eighth inning of the game at Cincinnati. Eddie Kasko appeared to have hit a double-play ball to Boyer, but the error allowed the Reds' Gus Bell to take second and Kasko was safe at first. Later in the inning Frank Robinson hit a double that scored both runners. Cincinnati won in the tenth, 3-2.

No American Players In U.S. Semifinals

FOREST HILLS, N.Y., Sept. 9 (UPI)—The U. S. Men's Tennis championship is heading out of the country for the sixth straight year and the odds say its destination is Australia—for the sixth straight year.

Two Aussies — Wimbledon champ Rod Laver and third-seeded Roy Emerson—pounded into the semi-finals yesterday along with Rafael Osuna of Mexico and Britain's Mike Sangster in the first Yank shutout in the round of four since 1958.

They knocked over four Americans to get there, but that no longer matters to them. Today's business paired Laver vs. Sangster and Emerson vs. Osuna, the first Mexican ever to gain the semifinals.

Things were only slightly better in women's singles where defending champ Darlene Hard of Long Beach, Calif., was the only United States survivor. She was matched against fifth-seeded Margaret Smith of Australia in one semifinal, with Britain's Wimbledon winner Angela Mortimer in the other against Ann Haydon, also of England.

Laver dropped a set to Don Dell of Bethesda, Md., and Osuna lost one to Whitney Reed of Almeda, Calif., in yesterday's American debacle in men's singles, but that was it.

Rocket Rod went on to down Dell, 6-4, 7-9, 6-3, 6-4; Osuna bounced Reed, 6-8, 6-3, 6-3, 6-2; Sangster walloped seventh-seeded Jack Douglas of Santa Monica, Calif., 6-4, 7-5, 6-1, and Emerson trounced hard-hitting Ron Holmberg of Brooklyn, 6-2, 6-4, 7-5.

In the women's division, Miss Mortimer defeated Lesley Turner of Australia, 6-3, 6-4, and Miss Haydon baselined her way to a 6-4, 5-7, 6-2, victory over Jan Lehane, another Aussie.

Laver and Emerson were favored to set up the fifth all-Aussie men's final since 1955. The only outsider who has cracked the final round since Tony Trabert won in '55 was Alex Olmedo of Peru, a loser in 1959.

The last American shutout in the semifinals, in 1958, saw three Australians—Mal Anderson, Ashley Cooper and Neale Fraser—make it along with Sweden's Ulf Schmidt.

Grid Cards to Face Ex-Mates at Hershey

By Robert Morrison
Of the Post-Dispatch Staff

HERSHEY, Pa., Sept. 9—Familiar faces will be looking across the line of scrimmage at the St. Louis football Cardinals when they play the Philadelphia Eagles tonight in a pre-season game starting at 7 o'clock St. Louis time.

The most familiar faces will be those of old teammates — quarterback King Hill, defensive end Leo Sugar and right end or linebacker John Tracey.

These three were with the Cardinals last season when the Eagles won the National Football League championship while the Cardinals finished fourth behind the Eagles in the eastern division.

Quarterback Hill has managed to stay in a battle with Sonny Jurgensen for the Eagles No. 1 quarterback position. Hill was traded by the Cardinals for a draft choice following last season. Hill has been designated to start tonight.

Sugar, a veteran defensive end, and Tracey, who was a linebacker with the Cardinals last year, went to the Eagles in a trade that brought the Big Red a younger defensive end, Joe Robb.

Now, as the training game period is about to end, Sugar is a regular for the Eagles at defensive end and Tracey has returned to an offensive end position, playing No. 2 behind Bobby Walston.

The Eagles have won all four of their pre-season games from the College All-Stars (28-14), the Chicago Bears (38-10), the Detroit Lions (34-14), and the Washington Redskins (17-10).

Cardinal defeats have been at the hands of Green Bay (31-10), Pittsburgh (24-14) and Detroit (20-7). Coach Frank Ivy will play rookie quarterback Charley Johnson as the Big Red attempts to boost its offensive punch.

Hill 5 Up Despite Wall's 61

DENVER, Sept. 9 (AP)—The gallery is still talking about Art Wall's sensational 10-under-par 61, but the field is still chasing the first-day leader, young Dave Hill, in the third round of the 72-hole Denver Open golf tournament today.

Hill carried a five-stroke lead and a growing confidence into today's play at the 6843-yard Meadow Hills course.

Dodger Ace Podres Pounded by Giants; Mantle Blasts No. 52

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 9 (AP)—The Dodgers' bid for a fifth straight victory and a place at the top of the National League race was sidetracked last night. Not only did the leading Reds win at Cincinnati over the Cardinals but the San Francisco Giants stung the Dodgers' ace hurler, Johnny Podres, 7-3.

That combination of events gave the Reds a two-game lead whereas an L.A. victory and a Cincinnati loss would have lifted the Dodgers back into first place. So, the night of Sept. 8 may turn out to be the turning point in the flag race.

The evening was also marked by Mickey Mantle's return to the battle for home run honors. Mickey, shrugging off a shin bruise, blasted back into the race for Babe Ruth's record with his fifty-second homer, hitting a 3-2 pitch off righthander Gary Bell into the lower right field seats at Yankee Stadium in the fifth inning.

The bases-empty shot, which capped one of a trio of three-run frames as New York made a booming burlesque of the American League pennant race with a 9-1 breeze over Cleveland, put Mickey within three of teammate Roger Maris, whose homer total stayed at 55 in an 0-for-3 night.

Tie League Record.

That left Mantle two games behind Ruth's record-60 pace of 1927, while Maris is six games ahead, but gave the Yankees' M-men a tie for the two-man major league record of 107 homers in one season set by the Babe and Lou Gehrig in 1927.

Mantle's injury came after the homer, a painful foul tip that left a bad bruise on his left shin in the eighth inning.

The Dodgers' bid for a fifth straight victory didn't get past the first inning at San Francisco. The Giants walloped Podres (18-5), who had won 10 in a row on the road, for four runs. Joey Amalfitano started it with a triple and came across on Jim Davenport's single. Willie Mays added a two-run homer and Orlando Cepeda socked his thirty-ninth home run.

Left-hander Mike McCormick (12-14), given extra help by Davenport's two-run homer in the second, was the winner as the Giants ended their losing skid at five, four at Los Angeles. The Dodgers had nine hits, as did the Giants, but only one was a homer, a two-run shot by Gil Hodges that completed their scoring in the sixth inning.

Pittsburgh joined the Giants in helping out the Reds by chilling third place Milwaukee 2-1, dropping the Braves seven games behind. The Chicago Cubs defeated Philadelphia 4-1.

The Pirates managed only four hits but beat rookie Bob Hendley (5-4) with two runs in the fourth on two walks, Roberto Clemente's single and a doubleplay. Bob Friend (14-7) was the winner, getting Frank Bolling to hit into a force out with the bases loaded in the ninth. Milwaukee had eight hits, and scored in the sixth on a double by Ed Mathews and Hank Aaron's single.

The Yankees extended their lead in the American to 10 games as the Detroit Tigers lost their eighth in a row, 9-2 at Boston. The Chicago White Sox beat Los Angeles 5-3 in 10 innings, Baltimore swept two from Washington, 2-1 and 4-2, and Kansas City beat Minnesota 6-4.

Southpaw Dick Ellsworth (8-10) limited the Phils to three hits, the Cubs beat Art MaHaffey (10-19) with three runs in the second, scoring the clincher on rookie Moe Morhardt's first major league hit, a single.

Suspension Of Ralston Continued

FOREST HILLS, N.Y., Sept. 9 (UPI)—The suspension of Dennis Ralston, 19-year-old Bakersfield, Calif., Davis Cupper, for unbecoming conduct was continued today by the United States Lawn Tennis Association for the balance of 1961 and he was stripped of his national mixed doubles championship.

Beckley Invokes The Fifth

By a Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9—Gilbert L. Beckley, former St. Louis county handbook operator and a leading professional gambler, invoked the Fifth Amendment yesterday in refusing to answer questions of a Senate Committee investigating nation-wide gambling.

Beckley, who ran a handbook in Wellston 10 years ago, read a statement prepared by his attorney stating that he is under indictment at New Orleans and that his replies to committee questions might incriminate him. Asked to explain the nature of the charges, the witness said he was indicted by a federal grand jury for alleged failure to pay the excise tax on wagers.

The witness then was asked a series of questions, including whether he controls gambling in the Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., area, and whether he conducted "layoff" betting operations with David Goldberg, Clayton, Mo., gambler and layoff betting expert. Beckley invoked the Fifth Amendment in each instance, and was excused by the committee.

Beckley transferred his operations from Wellston to Newport, Ky., about 10 years ago, following a reported dispute with St. Louis county hoodlums who were said to have sought to share in his profits. Police activity later caused him to leave Kentucky and establish a large layoff betting operation in Montreal, Canada. Canadian police broke up the operation, and Beckley returned to Kentucky. Two years ago he moved to Miami Beach, Fla.

Senate investigators yesterday offered to assist in the prosecution of two gamblers accused of attempting to bribe a University of Oregon football player in a game with the University of Michigan. Frank (Lefty) Rosenthal of Chicago and Miami was named in the bribe attempt.

Bruce said Rosenthal offered him $5000 to fix the game by seeing that Michigan, a six-point favorite, won by at least eight points. He said Rosenthal offered him another $5000 if Bruce, a defensive halfback, would induce quarterback David Grosz to go along in the deal. Michigan subsequently won, 21-0.

Walter Byers of Kansas City, Mo., executive director of the National Collegiate Athletic Association, testified the University of Oregon athletic director had refused to even tell him Bruce's name when the case first broke. He said the director told him the young man was too upset already. Byers said this was on the day of the game.

Byers said on-campus gambling on athletic events is widespread, and that in 90 per cent of the bribery cases exposed so far, gamblers used college students to make their original offers to athletes.

At subcommittee hearings yesterday, the player, Michael Bruce, 20, dramatically pointed to Rosenthal as the man who offered him a $5000 bribe to fix last fall's Oregon-Michigan game. Bruce, of El Sajhon, Calif., said the bribe was offered in a hotel on the eve of the game at Ann Arbor, Mich.

Bruce said he exposed the offer to the Oregon coaching staff and police were called in.

Beaumont, O'Fallon Also Win

By Bob Ruhl

Carl Brawley stood with his back to the wall, a few feet away from the end zone boundary. It was late—just 3:42 remained in the fourth period of the football game. He knew his punt could make all the difference.

The crowd of about 4500 at Christian Brothers field drew a short breath. The McKinley guard-turned-kicker stretched his arms to take the pass back from center as the signals were chanted. Brawley never got his chance.

Center Frank Pinkert's snap was off mark and wide. The ball slid out of the end zone area for an automatic safety that gave C.B.C. a 2-0 victory over last season's No. 1 area prep team and ended the visitors' 10-game winning streak that began in 1960.

Moments before, McKinley was swept with a wave of enthusiasm. The Goldbugs of Julius Blanke had put a blunt end to the Cadet's only other scoring opportunity of the night by shaking fullback Bob Proost loose from the ball at the McKinley 1. Brawley was under the pile and on the ball.

In the other two opening games of the prep season, Beeaumont's speedy halfback Clifton Ray was too hot to handle as he scored three touchdowns, passed for another and intercepted a Laboure pass to set up still another score in the Bluejackets' 46-6 romp. And O'Fallon Tech beat DeAndreis, 6-0, when Henri Burton sprinted 35 yards to score in the fourth period.

McKinley and C.B.C., traditional first-game rivals, put on quite an exhibition of crackling line play. The dull thump and thud of shoulder pads was constant. This was not an offensive thrill-show but rather a test of might on the line.

"Our kids on the defensive team were great," said C.B.C. coach Jack Kersting. One of them, Pete Keleman, a sophomore middle guard, gave the Cadets their one big scoring chance when he fell on Morris Rideout's fumble at the McKinley 14 with 7:24 left to play. Brawley's fumble recovery ended that threat.

McKinley's Mike Wheeler ran wide, the powerful Rideout smashed hard inside and Paul Bible found some running space inside the tackles, but the young Cadets held their own and kept the Gold and Black honest.

But even in defeat, there is no question about the merits of McKinley, winner of three straight Public High League titles. The Bugs have all the trappings for another fine season. The same methodical, grinding pattern is there. The sharp blocking and tackling has carried over. John Rappe, the All-State and All-District guard, leads a furious defense.

Except for some sparkling running around the ends by fleet Carl Gentile and two pass completions by quarterback Charlie Pullaro, the Cadet attack was stymied.

McKinley's biggest scoring chance came early in the third quarter when Rideout and Bible combined to move the ball from the Goldbug 38 to the Cadet 19 before faltering.

Beaumont wasted no time in scoring. Ray raced 30 yards on the first Jacket running play of the game and later added runs of 23 and 16 yards for TDs. He hit Les Selvage with a scoring pass that went 35 yards.

O'Fallon blocked a DeAndreis touchdown opportunity in the first half by holding the Wildcats within the Hornet 7 for four plays.

Red Sox May Lose Geiger, Monbouquette

BOSTON, Sept. 9 (UPI)—The Boston Red Sox will lose outfielder Gary Geiger and pitcher Bill Monbouquette if the 182nd Infantry Regiment of the Massachusetts National Guard is called to active duty.

Maj. Gen. Thomas J. Donnelly, Massachusetts adjutant general, said today both men were members of the 182nd, a component of the 26th (Yankee) Division which was alerted for possible service in the Berlin crisis earlier this week.

Yanks Bring Up Reed.

NEW YORK, Sept. 9 (UPI)—The New York Yankees have recalled outfielder Jack Reed and eight other minor league players. Reed, who played for Richmond of the International League, is the only farmhand slated to join the parent club before the season's end.

negotiations on Berlin as soon as it is apparent that negotiations of a serious and constructive character can occur."

But he said there is nothing in the "fine print" of Khrushchev's statements on Berlin to "show the path to agreement."

At the same time Rusk warned the Soviet government against risking disaster by single-handed action against Allied interests in West Berlin. He also warned the Kremlin not to mistake the West's desire for peace as a willingness to yield to Russia's Berlin demand.

Rusk said the channels of communication available between Moscow and Western capitals "are not being neglected." It is understood that Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson had a talk with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko in Moscow earlier this week.

Indications here were that Gromyko in the private conversation stuck to the same hard line on Berlin which Khrushchev has been stating publicly in recent days. Officials earlier said that exchanges between Premier Khrushchev and Italian Premier Fanfani had produced a similar result so far as the Soviet position is concerned.

'Atomic Blackmail.'

Russia's resumption of nuclear weapons testing, which the United States has denounced as "atomic blackmail," and Soviet diplomatic attacks on allied use of the air corridors between Berlin and West Germany are regarded in official quarters here as discouraging.

Khrushchev said in Moscow yesterday that he is ready for "business-like talks" with President Kennedy on the Berlin issue. But officials said their efforts to find out what Khrushchev considers negotiable have shown only that he wants to negotiate away the position of the Western powers in Berlin. The words used by Rusk in his speech here last night re-emphasized the unwillingness of the United States and its allies to negotiate on Khrushchev's terms.

Rusk spoke at a dinner in honor of the Administration's disarmament policy chief, John J. McCloy. McCloy was given the Army Association's George C. Marshall award.

In discussing the Berlin crisis, Rusk said, "We cannot believe that any power could press so dangerous an issue without full exploration with all whose interests and pledges are involved."

Declaring that the channels of communication between Russia and the West are being employed, Rusk said the real problem is "whether channels can lead to a meeting of mind."

"If peaceful processes are to succeed," he added, "they must be given their chance. This means that unilateral action taken against the vital interests of the free world in West Berlin could only court disaster.

"There have been threats and implied threats of such action in recent weeks, with particular regard to Allied air traffic into Berlin. These threats have been rejected promptly and in the most solemn terms by the Western powers. . . .

"It is possible for those who do not understand democracy to make a mistake about these matters—by listening only to the voices they wish to hear, by confusing debate with disunity, by reading a desire for peace as a willingness to yield. These are mistakes which Moscow cannot afford and which mankind cannot afford."

Britain Announces Formation of New Reserve Division.

WOKING, England, Sept. 9 (UPI)—Defense Minister Harold Watkinson announced today Britain is forming a new reserve division for its Army of the Rhine and said it would be held "in a high state of readiness to go to Germany if the situation worsens."

Watkinson made the disclosure in a speech to voters of his home district after declaring that Britain intends to go on strengthening its NATO forces in West Germany as long as the Berlin crisis exists.

The Defense Minister said the new reserve division would include armor.

He said Britain has 500,000 reservists backing its regular force and many of them are undergoing their annual training.

the West. They wear red arm bands to show they have been appointed "keepers of public order," assigned to terrify residents out of viewing enemy stations.

Special Antennas.

Programs from West Germany or West Berlin can be received by most East German television sets. There are reported to be more than 1,000,000 of these, but special antennas are needed to get the West programs.

The government-controlled East German press makes no attempt to cover up the terror campaign and incites the youngsters with editorials and denunciations.

Blacklists of people who view or listen to West programs are published in the papers or posted in public places. These addresses become the targets for the roving youth squads.

They burst into houses uninvited to argue with the blacklisted set owners. The youths sometimes rip down offending antennas.

burgh C.S.C., president, Notre Dame University; Spottswood W. Robinson III, dean, Howard University Law School, Washington, and Dean Edwin N. Griswold, Harvard University Law School.

The report finds no fault with Missouri on voting. In general, the studies tend to show Missouri far ahead of the southern states in civil rights, at least equal to the other border states in seeking to protect these rights for Negroes but lagging behind the northern states at least in terms of surface acceptance of Negroes at all community levels, including employment.

The Missouri report, prepared by the state advisory committee to the commission, headed by J. Norman McDonough, St. Louis, leaned heavily on studies of civil rights situations by the Missouri Commission on Civil Rights, the League of Women Voters, as well as the results of its own investigations. Members of the advisory committee, in addition to McDonough, are Mrs. Frankie M. Freeman, vice chairman and secretary; John I. Rollings and the Rev. Arnold A. Wessler, all of St. Louis; Abe J. Kaplan and Edmund B. Smith, Kansas City; Dr. Lorenzo J. Greene, Jefferson City, and Mrs. Hugh P. Williamson, Fulton.

Residence a Factor.

In its study of school desegregation in Missouri, the commission report said that residence really determines the integration of the school.

"De facto segregation, brought about by housing limitations which force the Negro population of urban areas into cramped and restricted living areas, perpetuates the segregated school," the report said. "Consequently, seven years after separate public schools have been declared unconstitutional, the large majority of Negro children in Missouri is still attending segregated class rooms."

The report said more Negro teachers are being employed in the state now than in 1959 and are being used more freely in mixed schools in Kansas City and St. Louis. Negro children, aided by special programs, are overcoming environmental handicaps and are raising their level of achievement to that of whites, the report said.

In Pemiscot and New Madrid counties, in southeast Missouri, no effort has been made to desegregate schools and none is likely to be made in the near future, the report continued.

No Integration Efforts.

"Neither the Negroes nor the whites in these two counties have indicated any desire for integration," the report added. "Negroes seem to be divided on desegregation. Some fear that integration will mean loss of Negro teaching jobs. Others, particularly older Negroes, want to keep their own schools."

There are 2000 Negroes attending public colleges in the state, according to the report, in a total student body of 37,000. With the exception of Lincoln University, Harris Teachers College, St. Louis, and Kansas City Junior College, teacher integration in public colleges has lagged behind that of student integration.

The report recommended, among other things, that qualified Negroes be placed on policy-making boards in all school districts in the state, as they are in St. Louis, and that "immediate steps be taken to free housing from racial and religious restrictions, thereby eliminating racial ghettos which perpetuate racial segregation in the schools in spite of sincere efforts of boards of education to put an end to such segregation."

If this is not feasible, the report said, school boards might redistrict "in order to create conditions that are more conducive to good education as well as more consonant with the Supreme Court rulings. . ."

Barred From Many Hotels.

As for public accommodations, the report said Negroes are barred from a big majority of the state's hotels, motels, resorts, restaurants, soda fountains and department store eating facilities and places of recreation and amusement.

"In most cases in Missouri," the report said, "a Negro may order food to 'take out' or to eat in a backroom or segregated part of the facility, but he is refused permission to eat on the premises. Exceptions to the above may be found in St. Louis, Kansas City, St. Joseph, Springfield, Columbia, Clayton and a few other areas. Public accommodations for Negroes in rural areas of Missouri are almost non-existent."

The report noted with disappointment the defeat in the state legislature last May of a bill to bar discrimination in public accommodations, resorts and places of amusement. It noted with satisfaction, however, passage last May by the St. Louis Board of Aldermen of an anti-discrimination statute for public places. A similar measure was passed by the Kansas City council in 1960. It was held unconstitutional, however, by the Jackson county circuit court and now is before the Missouri Supreme Court.

Few Employed by State.

Despite state constitutional bars against discrimination in state employment, the report said, there are only 76 Negroes among the 964 employes of the Missouri Division of Employment Security and half of these are custodial workers.

There are only 11 Negroes among the 791 employes of the Missouri Highway Patrol; three are clerks, eight are janitors. The Missouri School for the Blind has 81 white employes and two Negroes, both maids. The state mental institutions at Farmington and Nevada have no Negro employes. In the state hospital system there are 73 white physicians, three Negro; 37 psychologists, of whom one is Negro; three Negro social workers out of a total of 33; 3 per cent of 140 nurses are Negro; of the 2900 aids and attendants, 500 are Negroes.

The only Negro secretaries in state employment at Jefferson City, according to the report, are at Lincoln University and in the offices of Negro legislators. The 18 employes of the State Personnel Division are white.

The report found Negroes faring better in employment at the city and county level, particularly in Kansas City (Jackson county) and St. Louis, where police and fire departments have a representative number of Negroes. Missouri Negroes have their best opportunities for employment, the report states, in federal jobs.

Singled out for mention as providing job opportunities for Negroes in private employment were the St. Louis Public Service Co., McDonnell Aircraft Co., Union Electric Co., and the automobile plants in the St. Louis area; and, in Kansas City, some of the downtown department stores, Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., Western Electric, Sheffield Steel Co., Transworld Airlines, Bendix Corp., Kansas City Transit Co., and Hallmark Card Co.

One employment drawback, according to the report, is the apparent ban on Negro apprentices in the skilled building trades unions.

With the exception of Kansas City and St. Louis, Negro law enforcement officers are virtually unknown in Missouri, according to the report. There are frequent complaints that Negroes get rougher treatment than other offenders and frequently are subject to indiscriminate arrests.

At Poplar Bluff, there are Negro policemen to arrest Negroes only, the report said. If a Negro officer sees a violation by other than a Negro, it was stated, he must call a white officer to make the arrest.

As for housing, the report said, racial restrictions, applying not only to Negroes, but to Jews, in sales and rentals, exist in Kansas City and St. Louis. Negroes, the report said, are generally excluded from suburban and outlying residential sections and are concentrated in blighted sections in the center of the cities.

The report also tended to show a pattern of discrimination in urban renewal and so-called low-cost housing developments in several areas in the state, with displaced Negroes being relocated into other Negro areas because the new-construction rent was too costly.

of test—in the atmosphere—"could give rise to harmful and dangerous illusions" that the arms race really was being ended.

He said the effect of doing this would be to legalize ways of developing and improving nuclear weapons through underground and outer space tests.

His statement said the Soviet Union is taking every measure to reduce to a minimum the harmful effects of the current tests.

Khrushchev argued that the Soviet Union has set off fewer blasts than the United States, Britain and France, adding: "We have every reason, both from the viewpoint of morality and of insuring our national interests, to claim an equal number of test explosions with the Western powers."

Offer Runs Out.

His rejection was issued on the day the Western offer ran out.

He coupled it with a declaration that, in order to dispell the threat of war and normalize international relations, it is necessary to solve "the basic problem of our time—the problem of general and complete disarmament."

By United Press International.

Premier Khrushchev assured Prime Minister Nehru of India today that he wanted to head off a nuclear war. But diplomatic sources believed Nehru has failed in his mission to stop Russian nuclear tests and ease the Berlin crisis.

The Soviet and Indian leaders had a final hour-long talk this morning, their fourth in as many days, before Nehru flew to Tashkent. He will return to New Delhi tomorrow and a joint communique will be issued then.

Seeing Nehru off at the airport, Khrushchev told him both had "an ardent desire to avert the unleashing of a rocket nuclear war which would be an irretrievable calamity for mankind."

Nehru replied that he believed their talks would be "of great significance and beneficial in deciding some problems." He did not say which problems.

Speaks of Friendship.

Khrushchev spoke mainly about Soviet-Indian friendship "based on the great principles of the coexistence between countries of different social systems." Then he shook Nehru's hand warmly as the Indian leader boarded the plane.

Diplomats said Khrushchev's speech at yesterday's Soviet-Indian friendship rally indicated the Soviet leader is so committed to a policy of extreme pressure on the West that even Nehru, considered the leading voice of nations which call themselves non-aligned, could not dissuade him.

Nehru, indicating keen disappointment, pointedly brushed aside Khrushchev's claim that military necessity forced the Soviet Union to resume nuclear testing.

"No matter what military arguments are adduced in support of carrying out such tests, they create a threat to all mankind," Nehru said.

(Associated Press correspondent Preston Grover wrote that "if there was any agreement between them (Nehru and Khrushchev) it was on lesser things."

("Some diplomats learned, either from Nehru or other members of the Indian delegation, that the meeting with Khrushchev had not been pleasant," Grover wrote.)

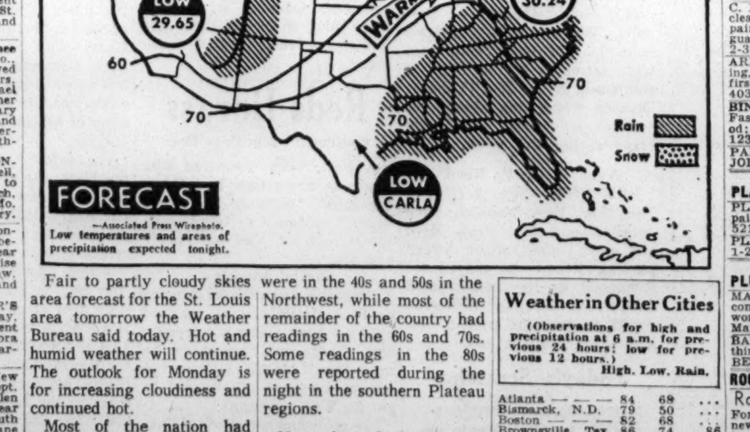
Hot, Humid Weather Staying



—Associated Press Wirephoto.
Low temperatures and areas of precipitation expected tonight.

Fair to partly cloudy skies area forecast for the St. Louis area tomorrow the Weather Bureau said today. Hot and humid weather will continue. The outlook for Monday is for increasing cloudiness and continued hot.

Most of the nation had pleasant weather last night. There was some cloudiness in southwest Idaho and in the middle Atlantic coastal area. Haze and ground fog restricted visibility in the middle Mississippi valley, the Ohio valley and along the Atlantic coast. Cloudy skies were reported over Louisiana and Mississippi during the night.

Yesterday's high temperature of 101 was shared by Blythe and El Centro, Calif., and Gila Bend, Ariz. Lowest temperature yesterday was 29 at Big Piney, Wyo.

Widely scattered showers are expected today over most of the South, the Plains and the Rockies. Light showers are possible in the Ohio valley, north and middle Atlantic and the Pacific Coast.

Cooling degree days in the St. Louis area yesterday, 14; the month, 115; the season, 1165.

The World's Most Important Man

By Ramon Coffman

THIS UNUSUAL question has come to me:

"Who is the most important man alive today?"

A British citizen might name Prime Minister Macmillan or some other British leader. A Russian probably would speak of Khrushchev, and many Americans think President Kennedy should rank first.

For my part, I consider the question too puzzling to answer with the name of a special person. My general answer is this:

"The most important man alive today is the one who is doing most for the good of the human race."

Such a man might be an inventor, a scientist, a writer or a political leader. Who knows which?

Thinking of the present decade, I would narrow my statement by saying that the most important man is the one who is doing the greatest work to promote Civil Defense.

Civil Defense experts say that H-bombs would take a heavy toll in human if cities are to be struck, but they believe that the fallout would be even worse. Some of them estimate that the first two weeks of fallout would cause three times the human loss from the original blasts.

There are ways to save the public from most of the fallout danger. If it is possible to learn which man or woman does the most to promote Civil Defense, which would save a majority of the people from harm, we shall have a "hero of history" who deserves high honor.
